

United States Department of State

Washington, D.C. 20520

October 20, 2017

Case No.: F-2014-03625

John H. Clarke, Esq.
1629 K Street, N.W., Suite 300
Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Mr. Clarke,

I refer you to our letter dated September 1, 2017, regarding the release of certain Department of State material under the Freedom of Information Act (the "FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552.

The Department has identified 60 additional documents responsive to your request, of which 31 have been released in part and 29 have been released in full. The vast majority of these documents have been previously released to the public under FOIA pursuant to other recent FOIA litigation cases, and most are available in the Department's online reading room of FOIA documents at <https://foia.state.gov/search>. However, for your convenience, we are enclosing all of the additional responsive documents here.

Where documents are released in part, all non-exempt material that is reasonably segregable from the exempt material has been released. Where we have made excisions, the applicable exemptions are marked on each document. An enclosure provides information on FOIA exemptions and other grounds for withholding material.

If you have any questions, your attorney may contact Trial Attorney Tamra Moore at (202) 305-8628 or at Tamra.Moore@usdoj.gov.

Sincerely,

Susan P. Weisman For

Eric F. Stein, Director
Office of Information Programs and Services

SUBJECT: Security Advisory - Cairo Protestors' Reaction to Controversial Film and Pastor Terry Jones Internet Event.

1. (U) This cable contains an action request. Please see paragraphs three and four.
2. (SBU) In response to the upcoming release of a controversial film entitled "Muhammad's Trial," hundreds of demonstrators converged on the U.S. Embassy in Cairo on September 11, 2012, with a number of protestors breaching the compound. This film, clips of which have recently appeared on YouTube, was reportedly produced by U.S.-based Egyptian Coptic Christians allegedly with the support of Pastor Terry Jones. Jones has also scheduled an "International Judge Mohammed Day" in Florida for the evening of September 11, 2012. Jones reportedly stated he would "symbolically put the Prophet on trial and play it out over the internet."
3. (SBU) Violent extremist groups could use Pastor Jones' recent statements and actions as motivation to target U.S. interests overseas. As a precaution against any potential anti-American fallout, posts should consider convening an EAC as appropriate to assess what impact this activity may have on your security environment. You should review the security posture for both official and private U.S. interests and determine what actions need to be taken to counter any potential threat -- to include requesting host government security support as appropriate. EACs should carefully review internal and external procedures for mobs and possible attacks and consider conducting drills to reinforce the necessary security measures to be taken in the event of a serious incident.

4. (U) If the need exists to provide general information to private U.S. citizen communities, please use language in existing consular information program documents, specifically the Worldwide Caution. Post is reminded that CA/OCS must clear on Emergency Messages and Security Messages. CA/OCS is available 24/7 through the Operations Center.

5. (SBU) The Department will continue to ensure that you are informed immediately of any threat information that may affect your security environment.

6. (U) Minimize considered.

I am so sorry about the State Department officer killed in Libya and the ongoing precariousness in Egypt and Libya. Such anathema to us as Americans - and a painful reminder of how long it took modernism to take root in the US, after the Enlightenment, the 14th, 15th, 16th 19th amendments, removal of censorship norms and laws, etc. Heading to bed to read. A strange day here. Another bright blue beautiful chilly September 11th. Much to discuss when we can talk, hopefully tomorrow?

Two of our officers were killed in Benghazi by an Al Queda-like group: The Ambassador, whom I handpicked and a young communications officer on temporary duty w a wife and two young children. Very hard day and I fear more of the same tomorrow.

Let's try again later.

Re: Magariaf and the attack on US in Libya

SOURCE: Sources with direct access to the Libyan National Transitional Council, as well as the highest levels of European Governments, and Western Intelligence and security services.

1. During the afternoon of September 11, 2012 new interim President of Libya Mohammed Yusef el Magariaf spoke in private with senior advisors, including the members of the Libyan Muslim Brotherhood, to discuss the attacks by demonstrators on U.S. missions in Tripoli and Benghazi. According to a sensitive source, el Magariaf was shaken by the attacks, and gave permission to commanders on the ground for security forces to open fire over the heads of the crowds in an effort to break up mobs attacking the missions. During this session, a senior security officer told el Magariaf that the attacks on that day were inspired by what many devout Libyan viewed as a sacrilegious internet video on the prophet Mohammed originating in America. The Libyan attacks were also inspired by and linked to an attack on the U.S. mission in Egypt on the same day. At the same time, el Magariaf noted in strong terms that the atmosphere that made fostered these incidents in Libya is the product of widespread publicity regarding the security situation in the country between 2004 and 2010 and the cooperation that developed between a number of Western Intelligence services and the regime of former dictator Muammar al Qaddafi.

2. This source added that el Magariaf's advisors believe that this situation adds to the President's growing concern over the unpredictable effects that will follow current covert efforts by his political opponents to link him directly to foreign intelligence services. According to a separate sensitive source, el Magariaf noted that his opponents had often tried to connect him to the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) through the National Front for the Salvation of Libya (NFSL), a group established in opposition to former dictator Muammar al Qaddafi, which el Magariaf led in the 1980s. In the opinion of this individual el Magariaf believes that he can survive potential negative publicity in this regard, but if this situation continues to develop in this manner it will complicate his efforts to establish an orderly administration in the country. Again, he stated that the attacks on the U.S. missions were as much a result of the atmosphere created by this campaign, as the controversial internet video.

3. At the same time, this individual noted that several of el Magariaf's advisors share his concerns in this matter, pointing out that the return of Qaddafi's intelligence chief Abdullah al-Senoussi for trial in Libya has heightened public interest in the liaison relationships conducted by the CIA and British Secret Intelligence Service (SIS) with Qaddafi's intelligence and security services. These same individuals note that they believe Islamist militia forces under the command of General Abdelhakim Belhaj captured files and documents describing this relationship from Qaddafi's offices in Tripoli. This fascination with Western intelligence operations in Qaddafi's Libya is also driven by Human Rights Watch (HRW) and its efforts to tie Western governments to human rights violations committed under Qaddafi. In this regard HRW has interviewed at least fourteen (14) individuals claiming that they were turned over to Qaddafi's forces by the Western powers. Belhaj is included in this group.

4. (Source Comment: In the opinion of a very sensitive source, el Magariaf's enemies are working to take advantage of his suspected links to the CIA at a time when Western intelligence services are under scrutiny in Libya. They also fear that this situation will only grow more complex as Qaddafi's son Saif al Islam Qaddafi and al Senoussi are brought before Libyan courts to answer for their crimes under the old regime, particularly during the 2011 revolution. These individuals believe both men will be linked to Western Intelligence during their trials. )

5. According to this individual, el Magariaf is working with the Muslim Brotherhood and other Islamist groups to defuse this situation. He is particularly concerned by the level of violence between Sufi Muslims and Salafists, and believes he must maintain his reputation for impartiality if he is to defuse this growing problem. As he works to organize the government, and disarm the militias, he cannot afford to lose the respect and trust of the Libyan people, especially at a time when cultural clashes between followers of the mystical Sufi tradition and ultra-conservative Salafis have taken central stage in the new Libya. This source adds that these religious conflicts were largely unknown during Qaddafi's rule.

6. (Source Comment: This source added that the individuals interviewed for the HRW report were former members of the Libyan Islamist Fighting Group (LIFG), an Islamist group formed in opposition to Gaddafi's controversial interpretations of Islam. These LIFG fighters fled the country in the late 1980s and went to Afghanistan to join the fight against the Soviet Union while also gaining training and experience for their own struggle. A separate source adds that messages to Libya from the CIA and SIS were found among the Tripoli Documents published by HRW, indicating that the United States and Britain were eager to help Libya capture several senior LIFG figures, including its co-founders, Belhaj and Sami al-Saadi.)

7. As Libyan authorities struggle to control the armed rings that refuse to surrender weapons following last year's civil war, Salafis, who say Islam should return to the simple ways followed by Mohammed, have established their own armed gangs in post-Gaddafi Libya. They view Sufi practices as idolatrous. Since the start of the Arab Spring uprising across the region, a number of Sufi sites have been attacked in Egypt, Mali and Libya. Magariaf is determined to establish a democratic state based on Islamic principles. This individual adds that Magariaf remains dedicated to the idea of building a tolerant Islamic state in Libya. El Magariaf's opinions continue to be shaped by his experience with Qaddafi, whom he felt built a cult of personality in violation of all of the basic ideas of Islam.

Statement on the Death of American Personnel in Benghazi, Libya

It is with profound sadness that I share the news of the death of four American personnel in Benghazi, Libya yesterday. Among them were United States Ambassador to Libya Chris Stevens and Foreign Service Information Management Officer, Sean Smith. We are still making next of kin notifications for the other two individuals. Our hearts go out to all their families and colleagues.

A 21 year veteran of the Foreign Service, Ambassador Stevens died last night from injuries he sustained in the attack on our office in Benghazi.

I had the privilege of swearing in Chris for his post in Libya only a few months ago. He spoke eloquently about his passion for service, for diplomacy and for the Libyan people. This assignment was only the latest in his more than two decades of dedication to advancing closer ties with the people of the Middle East and North Africa which began as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Morocco. As the conflict in Libya unfolded, Chris was one of the first Americans on the ground in Benghazi. He risked his own life to lend the Libyan people a helping hand to build the foundation for a new, free nation. He spent every day since helping to finish the work that he started. Chris was committed to advancing America's values and interests, even when that meant putting himself in danger.

Sean was a husband and a father of two, who joined the Department ten years ago. Like Chris, Sean was one of our best. All the Americans we lost in yesterday's attacks made the ultimate sacrifice. We condemn this vicious and violent attack that took their lives, which they had committed to helping the Libyan people reach for a better future.

America's diplomats and development experts stand on the front lines every day for our country. We are honored by the service of each and every one of them.

Сам себе саммит

Владимир Путин подвел черту под встречей лидеров АТЭС во Владивостоке

На саммите АТЭС госсекретаря Хиллари Клинтон (справа) встречали почти как Барака Обаму. И Владимир Путин демонстрировал к ней в высшей степени уважительное отношение

Вчера во Владивостоке завершился саммит АТЭС, по итогам которого президент России дал пресс-конференцию, рассказал, чем закончилось назначенное накануне свидание после работы с Хиллари Клинтон, и подвел итоги саммита, попутно разъяснив, что некоторые журавли выют отдельные от стаи гнезда, но все равно являются членами популяции, и относиться к ним надо бережно. Специальный корреспондент "Ъ" АНДРЕЙ КОЛЕСНИКОВ утверждает, что понял, о чем говорил Владимир Путин.

В выходные на саммите АТЭС начались основные события, то есть собрались все, кто должен был, и саммит начался. Последней, кто успел выступить в рамках делового саммита АТЭС, стала госсекретарь США Хиллари Клинтон, которую тут ждали почти как Барака Обаму (так как она и есть почти Барак Обама).

С самого начала госпожа Клинтон и передала привет от него и уверенность в том, что "значительная часть новейшей мировой истории будет написана в Азии".

Впрочем, ни Хиллари Клинтон, ни Барак Обама с Азией себя никак не отождествляют, даже в малейшей степени, несмотря на то что США — один из старейших членов АТЭС, где Азия представлена широко и ярко. Зато Россию они уверенно относят именно к Азии, да и кто бы спорил.

Выступление госпожи Клинтон происходило на крайне позитивном фоне выступления президента США. Накануне он, как известно, отчитал своего соперника Митта Ромни за утверждение, что Россия является для США врагом номер один, и напомнил, что враг номер для США все-таки "Аль-Каида" (с которой, кстати, Россия помогает бороться с помощью аэродрома подскока для сил НАТО в Ульяновске).

— В области экономики,— заявила госпожа Клинтон,— хочу поздравить Россию с тем, что она вступила в ВТО. Три американских администрации старались помочь России вступить в ВТО!

Но то ли эти администрации (одну из которых возглавлял ее муж) были так слабы, что у них не получалось повлиять на страны ВТО, то ли России было тяжело помочь, когда она не хотела этой помощи... Хиллари Клинтон не расшифровала свою мысль — из дипломатических, видимо, соображений. Зато она в жесткой форме разъяснила, что преимуществами открытого рынка пользуются те, кто согласен играть по общим правилам закупок, субсидий, прав на интеллектуальную собственность...

— Присоединение к системе, которая основана на правилах, выгодно,— сказала она.— ВВП России может вырасти в среднесрочной перспективе на 3%, а в долгосрочной — на 11%! В свою очередь, американский экспорт в Россию может удвоиться или даже утроиться в ближайшее время!

То есть это тоже следует считать безусловным благом для России без издержек и побочных эффектов.

После этого речь госсекретаря США приобрела характер предвыборной. Она вспомнила, в каких условиях Барак Обама пришел к власти. Это был разгар кризиса, и надо было "перестимулировать экономику". И это, по ее словам, было сделано. За четыре года экспорт США вырос на 43%. И много еще хорошего Барак Обама сделал для своей страны, а это автоматически означает много хорошего для всего мира.

— Но конференции, даже такие, как эта,— неожиданно добавила госпожа Клинтон,— не решают всех проблем. Особенно это касается протекционизма.

О протекционизме накануне много говорил и президент России и даже приводил примеры его положительного воздействия на экономику (см. прошлый номер "Ъ"), но оговаривался, что Россия иногда злоупотребляла им, пока не вступила в ВТО. Во всем, что не касается России, протекционизм, по убеждению Владимира Путина, категорически вреден.

— Во многих странах локализация производства — это точка доступа и плата за вход на рынок страны,— резко и с осуждением сказала госпожа Клинтон.— Так же как и принуждение к раскрытию технологий...

Хорошо, что этих слов не слышал Владимир Путин и, например, председатель совета директоров Mazda Такаси Яманоти. Ведь только накануне президент России присутствовал при сходе с конвейера первой японской машины совместного предприятия Mazda и "Соллерса" во Владивостоке. И именно там Владимир Путин говорил о максимальной локализации производства как о желанной идее для России, а представитель Mazda признавал, что с удовольствием и радостью, безо всякого принуждения отдает новейшие технологии своей компании в хорошие руки российских производителей.

— В долгосрочной перспективе такая политика распугивает инвесторов,— предупредила Хиллари Клинтон.— А мы ответственны за построение экономической системы в XXI веке и знаем, как это делать.

Другими словами, она объяснила, что если такое будет происходить с американским производством на территории России, то американских инвесторов наша страна вряд ли дождется: слишком велика ответственность Соединенных Штатов за построение прозрачной и понятной системы правил в мировой экономике.

— Мы активно,— добавила она,— взаимодействуем с Конгрессом для отмены поправки Джексона—Вэника. Надеюсь, в конце этого года соответствующий закон будет принят.

Взаимодействие администрации США с Конгрессом по этому поводу продолжается почти столько же, сколько и неоценимая помощь по вступлению России в ВТО. Но если и в самом деле поправка будет наконец отменена новым законом, то могут появиться новые поправки.

О них я спросил министра иностранных дел России Сергея Лаврова после встречи Владимира Путина с премьер-министром Японии Есихико Нодой.

Нужно сказать, что накануне с японским премьером вышла не лучшая в его жизни история. Трудно сказать, как он оказался не просто в международном пресс-центре, где чужие не ходят, а и в одном лифте с корреспондентами и операторами из нескольких стран, а в основном, конечно, из России. Очевидно, его привело сюда не желание пообедать, а просто человеческое любопытство. Проблема состояла в том, что остальные-то зашли в лифт именно для того, чтобы пообедать на 11-м этаже пресс-центра.

Премьер-министр вошел первым, охрана, кроме одного человека, учтиво осталась снаружи. Но лифт не поехал, а вместо этого сработала сигнализация, свидетельствующая о перегрузке, причем сигнализация здесь в лифтах настолько тревожная, что мурашки по коже бегут всякий раз, даже если ты знаешь, что ничего плохого совершить еще просто не успел.

Премьер посмотрел на журналистов. Журналисты на премьера. Он сначала не хотел выходить. Вернее, он, кажется, не понимал, почему они не уступают место ему. Ну вот если бы Владимир Путин в Японии зашел в японский лифт, наполненный японцами, и сработала бы сигнализация, разве потребовалось бы ему выходить? Они бы сами испарились из этого лифта.

Но это был совсем другой, можно сказать, противоположный случай. Все молчали, даже не потупившись. На лицах отечественных журналистов ясно читалось: "Это наш саммит!". В конце концов японский премьер, виновато улыбнувшись и деланно вздохнув, вышел из лифта.

Я потом спросил у журналиста из этого лифта, больше всех возмущенного тем, как вели себя его коллеги, почему он сам не вышел из лифта.

— Я? — с недоумением переспросил он.— Да я вообще в углу стоял!

И вот теперь, сразу после встречи Владимира Путина с натерпевшимся премьер-министром Японии я спрашивал Сергея Лаврова про его разговор с Хиллари Клинтон.

— Долго вы разговаривали с американской коллегой? — поинтересовался я.

— Час двадцать сегодня утром,— вздохнул он.

— То есть долго.

— Так это же завтрак был,— объяснил Сергей Лавров.— Поэтому.

— Про Сирию говорили?

— Было,— признался он.

— Без последствий?

— Как обычно.

— А про "список Магнитского"?

— Про список? — переспросил он.— Ну когда она сказала, что, может, отменят наконец поправку Джексона—Вэника, я ответил: главное, чтобы вместо нее не появился "список Магнитского".

— А она?

— Как обычно. То есть промолчала.

Я еще спросил, говорили ли они о предвыборной ситуации в США и про Митта Ромни.

— А чего про него говорить? — пожал плечами Сергей Лавров.— Мы про него и так все знаем. Тем более что Обама немножко поправил его...

Хиллари Клинтон, выступая на деловом саммите АТЭС, между тем продолжала перечислять заслуги США в деле построения новой мировой глобальной системы:

— Мы подняли "двадцатку" на новый уровень, сделав ее главной точкой обсуждения и решения проблем.

Про "восьмерку" она, как и Владимир Путин, говорит теперь либо хорошо, либо никак. Но поскольку хорошего ничего сказать они, видимо, не могут, то обходятся в своих речах вообще без нее. И то господин Путин более великодушен: накануне он в своей речи хотя бы раз произнес это слово. Правда, оно, может, означало что-то другое.

Закончила Хиллари Клинтон обнадеживающим обращением к бизнесу стран АТЭС:

— Нужно делать то, что у вас получается лучше всех: строить, нанимать рабочих и расти!

С этими словами она сошла с трибуны и растворилась в кулуарах, не ответив на вопросы участников делового саммита (у господина Путина накануне на это ушло не меньше сорока минут).

Впрочем, их пути пересеклись через несколько минут, когда началась церемония съезда лидеров на первое пленарное заседание. Хозяин саммита Владимир Путин встречал каждого если не с распростертыми объятиями, то с распростертой ладонью, и ладонь госпожи Клинтон задержал в своей чуть дольше обычного, протокольного. Может, он забыл, что над ним парит микрофон, а может, именно потому, что парил, негромко сказал ей:

— Ну что, встретимся сегодня после работы?

Хиллари Клинтон не посмела отказаться от этого предложения, хоть и вздрогнула.

Между тем встреча Владимира Путина и Хиллари Клинтон после работы и в самом деле состоялась. Это произошло перед самым ужином, в котором участвовали все лидеры. Президент России и госсекретарь США уединились на небольшом диванчике, за стеклянной перегородкой у входа в зал. Они сидели на краешках диванчика (комфортней всего чувствовала себя, судя по всему, переводчица) недолго, минут 10-12, вежливо улыбались друг другу (шире улыбалась госпожа Клинтон, вежливей — Владимир Путин), и было понятно, что ничего серьезного они в таком интересном формате обсудить не могут.

Впрочем, весь ужин они тоже просидели рядом, потому что по протоколу за одним столом сидят человек, представляющий страну—хозяйку прошлого саммита (Хиллари Клинтон), настоящего (Владимир Путин) и будущего (президент Индонезии Сусило Бамбанг Юдойоно). Но и там, по информации "Ъ", насыщенных для новейшей мировой истории событий не обсуждали, а больше питались, пока не начался салют.

На этот салют и лазерное шоу, как известно, было потрачено больше 250 млн руб., но, судя по всему, немаленькую часть этой суммы залило разразившимся дождем, а потом и ливнем, так что городу, который весь вышел на улицы, не поздоровилось.

Вчера утром я одним из последних вышел из студенческого кампуса, чтобы ехать в международный пресс-центр. Подошел обычный желтый шаттл. Двери его распахнулись, и я увидел удивительную картину: в пустом салоне во всю силу из динамиков неслась песня Виктора Цоя "Мы хотим перемен!.. Перемен требуют наши сердца!", а водитель сидел буквально развалившись на сиденье и начинал рулить буквально двумя пальцами и при этом курил. Был прокурен уже весь салон.

— Садись,— крикнул он мне,— чего стоишь-то?! В ногах правды нет!

Это значило, что саммит вышел на финишную прямую.

Про свою короткую встречу с Хиллари Клинтон Владимир Путин рассказал и на пресс-конференции после саммита, но это заняло еще меньше времени, чем разговор с ней. Президент отказался отвечать, обсуждались ли особенности предвыборной борьбы в США (может, потому, что тогда он не смог бы так уверенно говорить о принципах невмешательства в предвыборную борьбу в России), однако про госпожу Клинтон говорил в высшей степени уважительно (в самом деле, не про Митта Ромни же ему так говорить).

Интересно, кстати, что, несмотря на такое добрососедство, Хиллари Клинтон на совместном фотографировании совершенно сознательно ушла в тень, то есть встала во второй ряд, причем так, что ее с трудом можно было разглядеть. Это при том, что ей предназначалось место в центре, рядом с хозяином саммита. Кто-то из журналистов даже крикнул: "Lady first!", но ни она, ни стоявший рядом премьер-министр Японии не отозвались на это предложение.

Очевидно, госпожа Клинтон не хотела выглядеть после саммита полным заединщиком с Владимиром Путиным: возможно, чтобы не спугнуть излишней близостью с ним избирателей Барака Обамы.

На пресс-конференции Владимир Путин прокомментировал начатое расследование по поводу монополистской деятельности "Газпрома" в Евросоюзе. По его мнению, расследование связано, можно сказать, с бытовой причиной: в свое время ЕС взял на себя обязательство субсидировать страны Восточной Европы, решившие примкнуть к Евросоюзу, и теперь ЕС стал заложником этого решения:

— Теперь кто-то в Еврокомиссии решил, что надо сохранить политическое влияние на эти страны, а при этом чтобы субсидировали это влияние мы.

Бурно отреагировал господин Путин на вопрос корреспондента Lifenews, который поинтересовался, не слишком ли много денег (около 600 млрд руб.) потрачено на организацию форума:

— Даже не знаю, чего вам сказать... Вы Христа ради не обижайтесь, но чего вы несете!

И господин Путин рассказал, что половина этих денег ушла на строительство магистрального газопровода Сахалин— Владивосток, что расширена взлетно-посадочная полоса аэродрома, построен новый аэровокзал, и три моста тоже, и вообще инфраструктура для города...

— Проблемы канализации, может, и не лежат на поверхности...— каламбур, уверен, был невольным,— но нам пришлось и их решать...

Плюс был построен городок нового типа для людей нового типа на острове Русский... В общем, реальная смета, похоже, была гораздо больше: вряд ли такие эпические преобразования можно было совершить на такую ничтожную сумму.

Главным реальным итогом АТЭС президент считает утвержденный список "экологических товаров", состоящий из 54 групп. По словам господина Путина, такого результата страны АТЭС не могли достигнуть последние десять лет. Остальные результаты, как и предполагалось, оказались более общими. Впрочем, некоторые президент считает существенными, например, появление в итоговой декларации "модельной главы", в соответствии с которой страны АТЭС обязаны предупреждать друг друга о сути своих преференциальных соглашений.

После этого началась лирика, то есть поговорили об Игоре Сечине и журавлях. На вопрос, что подарил Владимир Путин Игорю Сечину на день рождения, президент ответил, что "Сечин, разбойник, меня не пригласил, и я ему ничего не дарил, но подарить надо, потому что он очень эффективно работает".

Про то, что Игорь Сечин эффективно работает, президент добавил после некоторой паузы, которая свидетельствует о том, что именно это он и хотел отметить, подумав. Ведь этого можно было бы и не говорить, в конце концов, подарки на день рождения принято дарить не только тем, кто эффективно работает.

А корреспондент "Комсомольской правды" Александр Гамов поинтересовался тем, что президент думает о реакции интернет-сообщества на известие о том, что он собирается вести за собой журавлей.

— А чего говорить,— перебил его президент,— взяли бы и сами полетели.

Я думаю, желающие теперь найдутся. В конце концов, согласование с властями для этого не нужно, а если бы было нужно, его можно считать полученным. А уж чему можно посвятить такой перелет, можно только предполагать и фантазировать.

На замечание о том, что в Twitter телеведущей Ксении Собчак был сделан, можно сказать, электоральный анализ журавельных предпочтений, то есть 63% полетели за Путиным, а остальные предпочли остаться, освоив многочисленные болотные площади, президент сказал:

— Не полетели только слабые журавли.

И выждав, пока стихнет смех в зале, продолжил:

— И то только с первой попытки. Со второй полетели все.

Любое предположение насчет того, имел ли он в виду несостоявшийся второй тур, придется признать вульгарным: фраза сама по себе оказалась исчерпывающей.

— В том, что не все сразу полетели, есть вина лидера, пилота,— продолжил господин Путин.— Он слишком быстро набирал высоту... Но, с другой стороны, он вынужден был это сделать, иначе машина могла перевернуться...

Каждое слово здесь можно было бы истолковать конспирологически. И не уверен, что такого смысла в них Владимир Путин не вкладывал. И уж точно такой смысл содержался в его последнем замечании:

— А некоторые птички вообще в стае не летают, выют гнезда отдельно, но все равно относятся к популяции, и мы должны относиться к ним бережно.

Откуда такое великодушие у вожака стаи, которому по идее надо прежде всего доставить эту стаю по месту назначения в теплые края, чтоб сохранить и по возможности по весне преумножить ее за счет тех, кто и так летит за ним без оглядки?

Anti-Muslim film director in hiding, following Libya, Egypt violence

By Nia-Malika Henderson and Michelle Boorstein, Updated: Wednesday, September 12, 1:30 PM

The director of a controversial anti-Islam film has gone into hiding, according to reports, fearing reprisals over a work that has sparked violence in Egypt and Libya and led to the deaths of four Americans.

Sam Bacile, a California real estate developer, posted a 13-minute clip of "The Innocence of Muslims," in July, and the film became a lightning rod after the Egyptian media began showing parts of it on air and dubbed versions of the English-language film appeared on the Internet.

It depicts the Prophet Muhammad as a bumbling idiot, born out of wedlock and making up verses to the Islamic holy book to suit his purposes and desires. The film also shows him as having intimate relations with women and suggests that he was gay.

Any flesh-and-blood depiction of Muhammad is offensive to Muslims.

"This is a political movie," Bacile, 56, told the Associated Press, adding that he didn't expect the film to spark such fury. "The U.S. lost a lot of money and a lot of people in wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, but we're fighting with ideas."

Bacile identified himself to several news organizations as an Israeli-born Jew who works as a real estate developer in California. Yet his identity remains something of a mystery--Bacile is not listed in any directories or incorporations or real estate deeds and is not licensed in California as a real estate broker. And Israeli authorities told the Associated Press that they don't have any records of Bacile.

There are also questions about whether the film sparked the violence in Libya, which according to some reports seemed to be more coordinated than the protests in Egypt where some 2,000 gathered outside the U.S. Embassy in Cairo.

The eruption of violence came around the 11th anniversary of the Sept. 11 terror attacks, as Americans paused to remember the 3,000 people who lost their lives.

Ambassador J. Christopher Stevens and three others were killed after protesters attacked the U.S. consulate in Benghazi.

Nihad Awad, national executive director of the Washington-based Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR), condemned both the killings and the film. Awad said in a statement:

“We urge that this ignorant attempt to provoke the religious feelings of Muslims in the Arabic-speaking world be ignored and that its extremist producers not be given the cheap publicity they so desperately seek.

“Those who created this trashy film do not represent the people of America or the Christian faith. The only proper response to intentional provocations such as this film is to redouble efforts to promote mutual understanding between faiths and to marginalize extremists of all stripes.”

A controversial Florida pastor was among those promoting “The Innocence of Muslims,” which cost $5 million to make and stars amateur actors, some of whom appear to be wearing make-up to darken their faces.

Bacile said that the film was backed by 100 Jewish donors, according to Bacile.

Among the promoters is Morris Sadek, who heads the National American Coptic Assembly and the Rev. Terry Jones, leader of a small group that holds virulently anti-Islam events.

Tuesday evening, Jones sent out a press release blaming the Muslim faith for the protests and saying the group would be running a trailer later in the evening for the film.

The trailer was part of a one-to-two hour “live event” that Jones was doing from his Gainesville center for Sept. 11, said Fran Ingram, a spokeswoman for his group, Stand Up America. The whole broadcast included the handlebar-moustached pastor in a black “infidel” t-shirt standing in front of a fabric lynched devil dressed in a white turban for what they group dubbed “International Judge Muhammed Day.”

It wasn’t clear if Jones, who garnered worldwide attention in recent years with his threats to burn the Koran, had promoted “The Innocence of Muslims” before the rioting began.

Asked if Jones was connected in any way with the making of the film, Ingram said she couldn’t comment.

I am so sorry about the State Department officer killed in Libya and the ongoing precariousness in Egypt and Libya. Such anathema to us as Americans - and a painful reminder of how long it took modernism to take root in the US, after the Enlightenment, the 14th, 15th, 16th 19th amendments, removal of censorship norms and laws, etc. Heading to bed to read. A strange day here. Another bright blue beautiful chilly September 11th. Much to discuss when we can talk, hopefully tomorrow?

Two of our officers were killed in Benghazi by an Al Queda-like group: The Ambassador, whom I handpicked and a young communications officer on temporary duty w a wife and two young children. Very hard day and I fear more of the same tomorrow.

Let's try again later.
