Communists	Release	More	POWs

The second phase of the prisoner exchange agreement called for by the 1973 Lao accords took place as scheduled on September 29.

Sixty-four Thai and 44 Lao prisoners were released by the Pathet Lao at Phong Savan in Communist-controlled territory on the Plaine des Jarres, the site of the initial exchange ten days earlier. This raises the total number of prisoners thus far repatriated by the Lao Communists to 214 Thai, 64 Lao, and 1 American-civilian contract piloc Emmet Kay. The non-Communist side released all of its captives-173 North Vietnamese and 7 Lao--on September 19.

No precise date has been set of releases which are expected to Luang Prabang and Paksong sectors	take place in the southern Laos.
