COUNTRY USSR SUBJECT Concern Over Possible Congressional Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitude as seen in Heroes Melcome Given US Vietnam POM's DATE OF INPO. IMBS IS UNREVALUATED INFORMATION IMB IS UNREVALUATED INFORMATION IMBS IS UNREVAL
Congressional Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitude as seen in Heroes Welcome Given US Vietnam POW's DATE OF INFO. March 1973 IMIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION The meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet treatment of Jows and trade relations. He asked to be filled in as completely as possible on both of these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jows was a matter of the
Trade Mastrictions Because of US Congressional Attitudes/Concern Over Pro-Mar Attitude as seed in Heroes Nelcome Given US Vietnam PON's DATE OF INFO. March 1973 IMIS IS UNEXALUATED INFORMATION IT he meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet treatment of Jews and trade relations. He asked to be filled in as completely as possible on both of these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be. Congressional standpoint, would be. To lationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the probable outcome, from the use of the probable outcome, from the list had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be done that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be done
DATE OF INFO. Narch 1973 IMIS IS UNREVALUATED INFORMATION IMIS IS UNREVALUATED INFORMATION The meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet treatment of Jews and trade attitudes on the relationship between Soviet treatment of Jews and trade relations. He asked to be filled in as completely as possible on both of these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be. The main thrust of questions centered and the probable outcome, from the attitudes on the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be done that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be IMIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION 1. In March 1973, meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet troatment of Jews and trade relations. He asked to be filled in as completely as possible on both of these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be. hat the probable outcome, from the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be done that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be
1. In March 1973, meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet troatment of Jews and trade attitudes on the relations. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet troatment of Jews and trade attitudes on the relations. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas meeting was only for something less than one hour so many subjects were covered in a hurried, superficial manner. 2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet troatment of Jews and trade attitudes on the relationship between those what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the Congressional standpoint, would be hat the relationship between trade and exit permits for Jews was a matter of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was covered in a hurried, superficial mainter. 2. The main thrust ofquestions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional attitudes on the relationship between Soviet treatment of Jews and trade attitudes on the relationship between to know what the probable outcome, from the these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be
2. The main thrust of questions centered around US/USSR trade. It is fairly safe to say that he was preoccupied with the subject and also concerned with matters that related to it. He talked at length about US congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional Congressional attitude towards trading with the Soviets and US Congressional on both of relations. He asked to be filled in as completely as possible on both of these subjects. He wanted to know what the probable outcome, from the Congressional standpoint, would be. hat the Congressional standpoint, would be. hat the publication of the greatest sensitivity in the USSR. He also said that the publication of the recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and recent decree on the subject of exit visas was largely misinterpreted and that it had actually been issued to state the limits of what would be done the Jewish problem in the USSR and its the house welcome afforded the returning prisoners of war from Vietnam. He wondered a house the year. He seemed to think that the current public attitude was very • end •
APPROVED FOR
DATE: NOV 20
indicative of a reversal or public attitude was very such in favor of the war. think that the current public attitude was very such in favor of the war.