Document Description :

This is a two-page intelligence report, dated circa 1982, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers describes the burial of three U.S. Army Personnel in 1969 in Socialist Republic of Vietnam Tien Giang Province. This document reveals intelligence sources and methods including information about CIA facilities. Internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers, dissemination control markings, a signature and the name of a CIA employee have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description :

This document is a 2-page CIA memorandum, the first page being a fax cover sheet, to various federal agencies and other USG intelligence officials forwarding a report concerning the detention of two Caucasians, apparently American, and one Japanese in the Bien Hoa Area of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam. This document reveals intelligence sources and methods including information about CIA facilities in addition to internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers, dissemination control markings, a signature and the name of a CIA employee all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

* * * *

Document Description:

This is a one-page intelligence report from the CIA to other intelligence consumers, dated circa 1981, describing the posting of a former North Vietnamese interrogator of U.S. Prisoners of War as a Socialist Republic of a Vietnam official abroad. This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, even though this document is UNDATED, and assuming it is older than 25 years, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This is a three-page intelligence report, dated December 11, 1986, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers describing the absence of Americans at and a description of the Hiep Duc and An Diem reeducation camps in Quang Nam-Da Nang Province and the closure of the Hiep Duc Camp. This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information, identifies the location of CIA facilities overseas as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security..

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This is a one-page intelligence report, dated September 22, 1986, from the CIA to the DIA, describing the Muang Ngoy Area including information on population, transportation, restricted areas, police, military, reeducation camps and prisons. This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This is a two-page intelligence report, dated December 12, 1986, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers describing the absence of Americans at Reeducation Camp Two of Inter-Camp 4 in Ha Tuyen; the Vinh Quang Reeducation Camp in Vinh Phu, North Vietnam. This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information, identifies the location of CIA facilities overseas as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified CONFIDENTIAL.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This document is a three page letter, dated September 24, 1986, from the CIA to Commander Reed of the Department of Navy concerning a FOIA request for records involving the shoot-down of a pilot in 1967. This document contains intelligence sources and methods information, the name of a CIA officer, a signature as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings and information about individuals all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names of individuals. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document contains source identifying information, intelligence methods information, identifies the location of CIA facilities overseas as well as internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers and dissemination control markings all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information by the CIA that are specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document is a 2-page intelligence report from the CIA to other intelligence consumers containing information about the downing of a U.S. aircraft in Hai Phong City in mid-1972. This document identifies and provides information about a human source, intelligence methods as well as CIA numbers and dissemination control markings that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, even though the document is UNDATED, and assuming it is older than 25 years, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). Document Description :

This document is a 2-page intelligence report from the CIA to other intelligence consumers containing information about the downing of a U.S. aircraft in Quang Ninh Province in 1967 as well as the fate of its two airmen. This document identifies and provides information about a human source, intelligence methods as well as CIA numbers and dissemination control markings that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, even though the document is UNDATED, and assuming it is older than 25 years, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This document is a 3-page intelligence report, the first page of which is a fax cover sheet dated August 14, 1985, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers containing information about the alleged sighting of a group of U.S. POWs in Dong Nai Province in December 1979. This document identifies and provides information about a human source, intelligence methods, a CIA facility as well as CIA numbers and dissemination control markings that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, even though this document is UNDATED, and assuming it is older than 25 years, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This document is a 2-page coversheet and 2-page memo from the CIA to other U.S. government entities that contains information from a CIA human source and includes biographic information on that CIA human source. This document identifies and provides information about a CIA facility, CIA internal organizational data, dissemination control markings and CIA numbers that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

Disposition:

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description:

This document is a one-page summary of a telephone conversation questioning the veracity of a source. The entire document identifies and explains CIA methods for evaluating source-derived information. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains information on CIA intelligence activities and methods for reviewing sources and evaluating source-derived information.

Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it describes CIA methods of evaluating source-derived information.

Segregability: The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

This document is a 7-page cable, providing source identifying information including detailed biographical information of a CIA human source (e.g. work history and language skills). It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains a detailed description of the areas in which a source has knowledge of interest to the CIA and DOD

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains detailed biographical information about a CIA source and CIA methods by including an explanation of numerous areas in which the source could provide additional information on a foreign government. The document also contains CIA internal organizational information including dissemination and routing details.

Document Description :

This document is a 1-page cable summarizing information on a foreign government over the span of one week in July of an unknown year. The entire document contains detailed information of foreign government officials, foreign government intelligence activities and descriptions of CIA methods of obtaining information regarding those officials and activities. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains information about foreign government activities, CIA intelligence sources and methods of obtaining information from intelligence sources.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about sources of information on foreign government activities and CIA dissemination and routing information.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including a name, place of birth, date of birth and identification number. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

Document Description :

This document contains answers from CIA to questions posed by Congress regarding information derived from a CIA human source and CIA analysis and reporting mechanisms. The entire document contains detailed source information, organizational details, operational summaries and descriptions of CIA collection activities and methods. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information from and regarding CIA human sources, the location of CIA facilities, descriptions of CIA foreign activities, and explanations of CIA analysis and information sharing mechanisms.

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed biographical information of named CIA human sources (name, place of birth, professional history, contacts with U.S. and foreign government officials) and information about foreign intelligence services. It also contains a handwritten note describing a meeting between the individual and a named US person.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA human source, information on foreign government activities, CIA analysis, and CIA dissemination and routing information.

Document Description :

This document is a 2-page letter informing a member of Congress about a foreign activity of CIA. It refers to two classified annexes that are indexed at C00492270 and C00492271 respectively. The document contains specific information about CIA employees involved in planning the foreign activity and discusses CIA methods of passing information through official channels. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it details CIA facilities, a CIA foreign activity, and involves the passing of information through official channels.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about CIA methods of passing information through official channels and CIA methods of planning a CIA activity, it also includes personal information of CIA employees involved in the activity (names, address, title), and the name and signature of another CIA employee.

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

Document Description:

This document is 2-page report providing background on a CIA human source and describing answers to questions posed to the CIA human source. It contains information about CIA methods of collecting information from the source and CIA methods of recordkeeping. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information from a named CIA human source, CIA relationship with foreign liaison, and because it demonstrates CIA methods of collecting information from the source and passing information collected from the source.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA human source, information on foreign government activities, information on how CIA collected information from the source and details of how CIA passed on the information collected.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains information about a CIA activity, demonstrates how CIA passes information through official channels, and discusses the activities of CIA officers.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about CIA methods of passing information through official channels, about a CIA activity, because it provides the names and titles of CIA employees involved in the activity and the signature of one CIA official.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names and titles. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

Document Description:

This document is an 11-page report containing information on a foreign government official derived from multiple sources. The entire document contains detailed information on the foreign government official including name, place of birth, age, and relationship with foreign intelligence services. It also contains handwritten notes with CIA analysis of the information. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information from CIA human sources regarding a foreign government official, demonstrates CIA analytic knowledge of the official's relationship with foreign government intelligence services, and demonstrates CIA analytic methods of combining and analyzing information from various sources.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains detailed information on foreign government activities, a listing of CIA human source-derived and other source-derived information relating to the foreign government official, and CIA internal organizational data including a serial number and formatting standards.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names and titles. This is a 1-page source identifying document instructing recipient to remove a certain portion of the report from all computer databases. It is a duplicate of the second page of C00495557 and contains specific authorizations for dissemination. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it discusses CIA methods of evaluating sources and source-derived information.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA human source, CIA methods for evaluating a human source, and CIA routing and dissemination information.

Document Description :

This document is a 2-page memorandum summarizing analysis undertaken in response to a request. It contains personal identifying information and discusses specific CIA analytic techniques and capabilities. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it details CIA analytic methods, a CIA facility, and involves the passing of information through official channels.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about CIA methods of passing information through official channels and CIA analytic capabilities, it also includes information about CIA official memos, and internal organizational data such as a serial number, a CIA building, title and phone number.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names and titles. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

* * * *

Document Description :

This is a 1-page handwritten document with identifying personal and biographical information. It is part of the source for the analysis in C00495763 (a 1-page memorandum with specific information regarding CIA capabilities, methods, analysis and personal identifying information.) It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods and foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it is a direct source of human intelligence for the CIA.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA source of information.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including a name, title, signature and biometric data. ### Document Description:

This document is a 1-page cable providing source-derived information describing an observed incident. The entire document contains detailed personal identifying information and discusses CIA methods of obtaining the source-derived information. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information on CIA methods for acquiring source-derived information and demonstrates CIA methods for passing information through official channels.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Document Description :

This is a 1-page handwritten document that forms the second part of C00495766, a handwritten document with identifying personal and biographical information. It is part of the source for the analysis in C00495763 (a one page memorandum with specific information regarding CIA capabilities, methods, analysis and personal identifying information.) It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods and foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it is a direct source of human intelligence for the CIA and contains detailed biographical information on the source such as name and address.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA source of information.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including a name, title, address and biometric data. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about a particular individual, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

Document Description :

This document is a duplicate of C00495763 with some CIA identifying information obscured. It is a one page memorandum summarizing analysis undertaken on C00495764, C00495765, C00495766 and C00495767. The entire document specific information regarding CIA capabilities, methods, analysis and personal identifying information. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of

Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it details CIA analytic methods, CIA analytic capabilities, the passing of intelligence information through official channels and activities of CIA officers.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about CIA methods of passing information through official channels and CIA analytic capabilities, it also includes information about CIA official memos, and internal organizational data such as a serial number, a CIA building/office designator and phone number.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it discloses CIA sources of information and demonstrates CIA methods of analysis.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about CIA sources of information and CIA methods of analysis.

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is withheld in full because there is no meaningful non-exempt information that can reasonably be segregated from any exempt information.

This is a 1-page summary of reporting about a foreign country and includes personal identifying information such as names and titles and demonstrates CIA methods of obtaining the reported information. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it discusses CIA analytic assessments of a series of reports regarding a foreign country and a foreign government and includes source identifying information.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains information about a CIA source of information and CIA analytic assessments of the intelligence information. The document also contains CIA routing and distribution information.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names, titles, and medical information. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

This is a 3-page intelligence report describing source-derived information on an upcoming foreign broadcast. It references previous CIA reporting on the topic to likely be covered by the broadcast. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1)

reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it discusses the CIA analytic assessment of the broadcast, links the material to be covered in the broadcast to classified CIA reports, and references a CIA field installation.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Document Description:

This document is a 5-page CIA intelligence report, dated January 2, 1970, regarding policy discussions by North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front officials on handling wives of prisoners of war. This document identifies and provides detailed information about a human source, CIA internal organizational data, dissemination control markings, numbers and identifying information about individuals (e.g. names, etc) that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it provides specific CIA human source identifying information and provides information on the location of CIA facilities.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information from CIA human sources regarding a foreign government official, demonstrates CIA analytic knowledge of the official's governmental position, and demonstrates CIA analytic methods of combining and analyzing information from various sources.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it provides identifying details about a CIA human source, and includes CIA internal organizational data such as a CIA facility, CIA control markings and serial number.

Detailed background and biographical information concerning the CIA human source and human subsource has been properly withheld along with CIA control markings and CIA internal organizational data including serial numbers and dissemination information. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it provides specific CIA human source identifying information, provides information on foreign government activities, and details CIA collection methods.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it provides identifying details about a CIA human source, foreign government activities, CIA methods of collection and includes CIA internal organizational data such as CIA control markings, serial number and dissemination information.

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description :

This document is a 8-page CIA cable providing information on a sighting of three unnamed U.S. prisoners of war in early 1968. Detailed biographical information concerning the CIA human source, CIA's assessment of the source and the name of a sub-source have been properly withheld along with CIA control markings and CIA internal organizational data including dissemination information, serial numbers and the location of CIA facilities. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it provides detailed biographical information about a CIA human source, a CIA human sub-source, information on foreign government activities, and provides information on the location of CIA facilities.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it provides identifying details about a CIA human source, discusses CIA methods of collecting information from the source and includes CIA internal organizational data such as the location of CIA facilities, CIA control markings and serial numbers.

* * * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description :

This document is a 21-page CIA cable summarizing the location of enemy prisons in Laos. Detailed information concerning the CIA human source, CIA intelligence collection methods and descriptions of CIA analytic assessments has been properly withheld along with CIA control markings and CIA internal organizational data including dissemination information and the location of CIA facilities. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it provides specific CIA human source identifying information, sensitive CIA intelligence collection methods, explains and provides CIA analytic assessments of the information provided by a CIA human source, and provides information on the location of CIA facilities.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal CIA organizational data that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it provides identifying details about a CIA human source, describes CIA sources and methods of collection and analysis and includes CIA internal organizational data such as a CIA facility, CIA control markings and serial number.

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This is a 2-page document, dated October 13, 1971, from the CIA to the Chairman of the NSC ad hoc committee on Vietnam. This document identifies and provides information about CIA sources and methods, the name of a CIA officer, CIA internal organizational data, dissemination control markings, numbers and a signature all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document is a 2-page intelligence report, dated October 15, 1971, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers about the sighting of a dead American and observer of his burial. This document identifies and provides information about a human source, CIA internal organizational data, dissemination control markings, numbers and information about an individual (e.g. name, etc), all of which have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. This document also contains internal organizational data, functions and personnel information by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document is an 7-page CIA memorandum providing a transcript of a phone conversation between a North Vietnamese representative and a CIA officer at Vietnam Station. The names of CIA human sources and detailed information about U.S. persons including title, names, birthdate and occupational history have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Document Description :

This document is an 1-page CIA memo, dated October 28, 1971, from the CIA to the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs providing an update on a NLF prisoner exchange offer. The name of a CIA source has been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

More specifically, this document is withheld in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it names a CIA human source.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

* * * *

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

This document is a 2-page CIA memo for the Department of Defense summarizing CIA analysis of handwriting samples from a named U.S. person who is MIA. Detailed CIA personnel information (e.g. names), an explanation of CIA analytic methods and capabilities and CIA internal organizational data such as an employee signature have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified SECRET.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).
