Document Description:

This document is a 5-page cable providing information on a foreign government. The document names a CIA human source, contains foreign government information and reveals CIA control markings and CIA internal organizational information including dissemination information and serial numbers. It is currently and properly classified as SECRET.

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to foreign government information, intelligence activities (including special activities), intelligence sources and methods, foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(b), 1.4(c), 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(1) because it contains detailed information from a named CIA human source regarding a foreign government and reveals CIA's assessment of the information provided by the source.

The information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in full on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

More specifically, this document is withheld in full pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) because it contains detailed information on a foreign government from a named CIA human source, demonstrates CIA control markings, and provides CIA internal organizational data including dissemination information and serial numbers.

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. This document is a 2- page cable, dated circa 1970, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers regarding the sighting of two U. S. POW's in Tan Uyen District, Bien Hoa Province, South Vietnam. The document contains human source identifying information, the names of private individuals, internal organizational data, and CIA control markings that have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified CONFIDENTIAL.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Because the withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

Document Description :

This document is a 2-page CIA cable, dated January 27, 1973, from the CIA to other intelligence consumers concerning the sighting of a downed aircraft in North Vietnam. This document contains human source identifying information including biographical data on the source which has been properly withheld. Further, CIA internal organizational data, CIA dissemination information, control markings and information about private individuals have been properly withheld. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly classified CONFIDENTIAL.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(1): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(1). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is properly classified pursuant to section 1.4(c) and 1.4(d) of Executive Order 12958, as amended. Disclosure of the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) reasonably could be expected to cause damage to the national security. Additionally, the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 12958, as amended. The CIA has determined that the information withheld pursuant to exemption (b)(1) is also exempt from automatic declassification at 25 years under Executive Order 13526.

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document contains information relating to intelligence sources and methods that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, as amended, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data and functions by the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by Exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information (e.g. names, etc). Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt

Document Description:

This document is a 1-page letter from the CIA to the Pentagon that contains the signature of a CIA officer and the name of a private individual. The substantive portion of this document has been released. This document is UNCLASSIFIED but remains statutorily exempted from release under the FOIA.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA Exemptions (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(3): This document contains internal organizational data, functions or personnel information of the CIA that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6) on the grounds that the information, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including the name of a private citizen whose name is not at the discretion of this organization to disclose. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).

The CIA conducted a line-by-line review of this document to determine whether meaningful, reasonably segregable, non-exempt portions of the document could be released. As a result, the CIA is releasing all information that was segregable and not otherwise exempt.

Document Description :

This document is a 2-page CIA letter to the mother of an MIA soldier regarding the mother's FOIA request. The letter describes the decision to segregate portions of the requested documents. Internal CIA organizational notations such as document control identifiers have been withheld, in addition to the address of someone outside of the CIA, and the signature of CIA personnel. The substantive portion of this document has been released. It is currently and properly UNCLASSIFIED, but remains statutorily exempt from release under the FOIA.

This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemptions (b)(3) and (b)(6).

Exemption (b)(3): This document is withheld in part on the basis of FOIA exemption (b)(3). This document also contains internal organizational data and functions of the CIA, as well as CIA personnel information in the form of a signature, that is specifically exempted from disclosure pursuant to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, and thus is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(3).

Exemption (b)(6): The CIA withheld certain personal information from this document pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(6) on the grounds that the information if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy of individuals. Specifically, this document contains personal information including names and a home address. Because this withheld information provides personal identifying information about particular individuals, it is protectable under exemption (b)(6).
