RE: Freedom of Information Act Request: NGC21-632; Civil Action No. 20-1735 (RCL)

Dear Mr. Clarke:

This is in response to your client's Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), dated April 20, 2020, and May 21, 2021. We assigned your request internal tracking number NGC21-632.

As part of this fourth release, we processed 15 electronic PDF documents totaling 601 pages responsive to your request. After our review, we have determined that all 601 pages can be released in full. The attached files are finding aids and accessioning paperwork for Record Group (RG) 218, Records of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and RG 342, Records of U.S. Air Force Commands, Activities, and Organizations.

Another part of this fourth release contains the records related to the McCain Bill. This contains RG 289, Records of the Naval Intelligence Command, RG 330, Records of the Secretary of Defense, and RG 428, General Records of the Department of the Navy.

As this request is now in litigation, please contact Assistant United States Attorney Thomas W. Duffey (Thomas.duffey@usdoj.gov) if you have any questions. The case number for this litigation case 20-cv-01735 (RCL).

Sincerely,

Joseph A. Scanlon

61A. Administrative History: The Office of Intelligence was established by General Order No. 292, on March 23, 1882, in the Bureau of Navigation for the purpose of collecting and recording such "naval information as may be useful to the Department in time of war, as well as in peace." Prior to 1882 there was no central office in the Navy Department which served as the clearinghouse for naval intelligence. In 1890, the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), as the former office was later called, was transferred to the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy. By an order of the Secretary of April 26, 1898, the ONI was returned to the Bureau of Navigation, where it remained until 1909. In that year, the ONI was placed under the jurisdiction of the Aid for Naval Operations. With the establishment of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations on March 3, 1915, the ONI was transferred to its jurisdiction. In 1922, the ONI was renamed the Intelligence Division, although it was still referred to as the ONI. The ONI relied principally upon the efforts of naval attaches abroad to collect information of a technical and scientific character on foreign navies. During World War I, the work of naval attaches (with assistants) was enlarged to obtain not only naval but also military, economic, and political information. The ONI also increased the scope of its activities, and expanded its headquarters in Washington and abroad (closed after World War I). During World War II, the Naval Intelligence Division was part of the "services" group directly under the Sub Chief of Naval Operations. Since the Headquarters Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet (ComcinCh) and the ONI both carried out intelligence activities, a distinction was made between the two. Combat Intelligence Division was added to ComcinCh (July 1, 1943). The ONI was responsible for strategic intelligence, and the Combat Intelligence Division was responsible for operational intelligence. Geneva Convention. Included also are the dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of phases I, II, and III interrogations of returned or exchanged POW's. The dossiers describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POW's in a camp, and proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian). The files also contain psychiatric evaluations of the POW's, social history background information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged POWs' collaboration with North Korean military personnel during captivity.

INFORMATION SHEET
TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words treatment, location or condition appear in that paragraph of Public Law 102-190 (referred to as the McCain Bill) which defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g. Committee Reports, speeches, debates, testimony, etc.). In this case there is no legislative history which would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korea and Cold War casualties, the DPMO should apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation, with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply any further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment", "location", and/or "condition". Nevertheless, in our work thus far we have developed some examples of each category which may be helpful in your analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- * Circumstances of capture/internment
 - * Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - * Availability of food and water
 - * Interrogation techniques / torture
 - * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

LOCATION

- * Identifiable geographic feature, e.g. river, lake, mountain
- * Place name (village, city)
- * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
- * Distance from a known point
- * 6 digit UTM coordinate or greater
- * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)

CONDITION

- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
- * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
- * Description of cause/circumstances of death

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to McCain. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it can also be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of our redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When you encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

Scope & Content: This series consists of original and electrostatic copies of dossiers of repatriated American Navy, Marine Corps, and Army Prisoners of War (POW's) who were exchanged or returned under the provisions of Articles 109 and 110 of the Geneva Convention. Included also are dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch" and "Operation Big Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of interrogations of returned or exchanged servicemen. They describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POWs in a camp, and the proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian) an information relating to treatment, location, and condition of prisoners. The files may also contain psychiatric evaluations, social background history information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged collaboration with the enemy during captivity.

Item 4A: Reports address incidents surrounding loss or capture, camp conditions and treatment, observations on activities of the detaining power and actions of the prisoners, deaths and burials, release and other issues of interest to military authorities. Also included in some files are reports of and inquiries into alleged misconduct on the part of prisoners, to include witness accounts from other services. The records are arranged alphabetically by individual's last name, and are scheduled under SECNAVINST 5212.5C, SSIC 3461/3. There is also a TAGO listing (carbon copy) of Army returnees under Operation "Big Switch."

Item 12: Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(7) apply. These records are still classified. Declassification review under the provisions of EO 12958 was not conducted as the Defense Prisoner of War/Missing in Action Office has advised that the POW debriefing reports should remain classified. Transfer unites the collection in one place and will facilitate declassification review, to be conducted at a later date. Other exemptions that apply are cited in the Privacy Act system notice as specified in item 13 and Public Law 102-190, as amended (FY 95 National Defense Authorization Act), as specified in item 14.

61A. Administrative History: The Office of Intelligence was established by General Order No. 292, on March 23, 1882, in the Bureau of Navigation for the purpose of collecting and recording such "naval information as may be useful to the Department in time of war, as well as in peace." Prior to 1882 there was no central office in the Navy Department which served as the clearinghouse for naval intelligence. In 1890, the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), as the former office was later called, was transferred to the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy. By an order of the Secretary of April 26, 1898, the ONI was returned to the Bureau of Navigation, where it remained until 1909. In that year, the ONI was placed under the jurisdiction of the Aid for Naval Operations. With the establishment of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations on March 3, 1915, the ONI was transferred to its jurisdiction. In 1922, the ONI was renamed the Intelligence Division, although it was still referred to as the ONI. The ONI relied principally upon the efforts of naval attaches abroad to collect information of a technical and scientific character on foreign navies. During World War I, the work of naval attaches (with assistants) was enlarged to obtain not only naval but also military, economic, and political information. The ONI also increased the scope of its activities, and expanded its headquarters in Washington and abroad (closed after World War I). During World War II, the Naval Intelligence Division was part of the "services" group directly under the Sub Chief of Naval Operations. Since the Headquarters Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet (ComcinCh) and the ONI both carried out intelligence activities, a distinction was made between the two. Combat Intelligence Division was added to ComcinCh (July 1, 1943). The ONI was responsible for strategic intelligence, and the Combat Intelligence Division was responsible for operational intelligence. A postwar reorganization of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (effective November 10, 1945), resulted in the ONI being temporarily placed under the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations. A subsequent reorganization in 1946, transferred the ONI to the jurisdiction of the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Operations).

Geneva Convention. Included also are the dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of phases I, II, and III interrogations of returned or exchanged POW's. The dossiers describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POW's in a camp, and proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian). The files also contain psychiatric evaluations of the POW's, social history background information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged POWs' collaboration with North Korean military personnel during captivity.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS:

STORAGE:

Paper and automated records.

RETRIEVABILITY:

NCIS permanent files are filed by terminal digit number. In order to locate the file it is necessary to query the Defense Central Index of Investigations (DCII) computer using the name of the subject and at least one other personal identifier such as date of birth, place of birth, or Social Security Number. Files may also be retrieved by a case control number assigned at the time the investigation is initiated. Copies of the files in the NCISROs and Resident Agencies are retrieved by name. Consolidated Evidence Facility and Regional Forensic Lab information is retrieved by name, case control number, submitting agency log number, log numbers, or lab numbers.

SAFEGUARDS:

NCIS investigative files (permanent and temporary) are maintained and stored in open shelves and filing cabinets located in secured areas accessible only to authorized personnel. Controls have been established to restrict computer output to only authorized users at all system locations. Computer records are kept in secure continually manned areas and are accessible only to authorized computer operators. Dated files are retired to the Washington National Records Center where retrieval is restricted to NCIS authorized personnel.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Retention of completed NCIS investigative files on Personnel Security Investigations (PSI's) is authorized for 15 years unless adverse information is developed, in which case they may be retained for 25 years. PSI files on persons considered for affiliation with DOD will be destroyed within one year if the affiliation is not consummated.

Special Agent applicant records are retained for one year if the applicant declines offer of employment and five years if the applicant is rejected for employment.

Criminal files are retained for 25 years. Major investigations of a counterintelligence/security nature, of espionage or sabotage, may be retained permanently.

Investigations to have possible historical value may be offered to the National Archives for continued retention. Counterintelligence records on persons not affiliated with DOD must be destroyed within 90 days or one year under criteria set forth in DOD Directive 5200.27, unless retention is required by law or specifically approved by the Secretary of the Navy.

Decentralized consolidated evidence files and decentralized laboratory report files are destroyed after 5 years unless circumstances require longer retention.

Files retained in the NCISRO's and resident agencies are temporary and are destroyed after 90 days or one year, as appropriate.

SYSTEM MANAGER(S) AND ADDRESS:

Director, Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Washington Navy Yard, Building 111, 901 M Street, SE, Washington, DC 20388-5380 has ultimate responsibility for all NCIS file holdings. Management of NCIS permanent files is the direct responsibility of the Head, Administration Department. Regional directors are responsible for files retained in their NCISRO subordinate resident agencies.

INFORMATION SHEET
TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words treatment, location or condition appear in that paragraph of Public Law 102-190 (referred to as the McCain Bill) which defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g. Committee Reports, speeches, debates, testimony, etc.). In this case there is no legislative history which would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korea and Cold War casualties, the DPMO should apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation, with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply any further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment", "location", and/or "condition". Nevertheless, in our work thus far we have developed some examples of each category which may be helpful in you analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- * Circumstances of capture/internment
 - * Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - * Availability of food and water
 - * Interrogation techniques / torture
 - * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

- LOCATION
- * Identifiable geographic feature, e.g. river, lake, mountain
 - * Place name (village, city)
 - * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
 - * Distance from a known point
 - * 6 digit UTM coordinate or greater
 - * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)
- CONDITION
- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
 - * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
 - * Description of cause/circumstances of death

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to McCain. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it can also be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of our redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When you encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

Scope & Content: This series consists of original and electrostatic copies of dossiers of repatriated American Navy, Marine Corps, and Army Prisoners of War (POW's) who were exchanged or returned under the provisions of Articles 109 and 110 of the Geneva Convention. Included also are dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch" and "Operation Big Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of interrogations of returned or exchanged servicemen. They describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POWs in a camp, and the proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian) an information relating to treatment, location, and condition of prisoners. The files may also contain psychiatric evaluations, social background history information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged collaboration with the enemy during captivity.

61A. Administrative History: The Office of Intelligence was established by General Order No. 292, on March 23, 1882, in the Bureau of Navigation for the purpose of collecting and recording such "naval information as may be useful to the Department in time of war, as well as in peace." Prior to 1882 there was no central office in the Navy Department which served as the clearinghouse for naval intelligence. In 1890, the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), as the former office was later called, was transferred to the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy. By an order of the Secretary of April 26, 1898, the ONI was returned to the Bureau of Navigation, where it remained until 1909. In that year, the ONI was placed under the jurisdiction of the Aid for Naval Operations. With the establishment of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations on March 3, 1915, the ONI was transferred to its jurisdiction. In 1922, the ONI was renamed the Intelligence Division, although it was still referred to as the ONI. The ONI relied principally upon the efforts of naval attaches abroad to collect information of a technical and scientific character on foreign navies. During World War I, the work of naval attaches (with assistants) was enlarged to obtain not only naval but also military, economic, and political information. The ONI also increased the scope of its activities, and expanded its headquarters in Washington and abroad (closed after World War I). During World War II, the Naval Intelligence Division was part of the "services" group directly under the Sub Chief of Naval Operations. Since the Headquarters Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet (ComcinCh) and the ONI both carried out intelligence activities, a distinction was made between the two. Combat Intelligence Division was added to ComcinCh (July 1, 1943). The ONI was responsible for strategic intelligence, and the Combat Intelligence Division was responsible for operational intelligence. A postwar reorganization of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (effective November 10, 1945), resulted in the ONI being temporarily placed under the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations. A subsequent reorganization in 1946, transferred the ONI to the jurisdiction of the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (Operations),

Geneva Convention. Included also are the dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of phases I, II, and III interrogations of returned or exchanged POW's. The dossiers describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POW's in a camp, and proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian). The files also contain psychiatric evaluations of the POW's, social history background information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged POWs' collaboration with North Korean military personnel during captivity.

The information may be of criminal, counterintelligence, or general investigative interest. General Reports (GEN). Although no longer used as such, the investigative purpose of the GEN was to report the results of pre-employment inquiries on applicants for positions as special agents with NCIS. The official ROI is now used for this purpose.

Action Lead Sheets (ALS's), investigative summaries, memoranda for the files and correspondence relating to specific cases and contained in the individual dossier.

Polygraph Data. A listing of persons who submitted to polygraph examination by NCIS examiners. The data includes the examinee's name, location and results of the examination and the identity of the examiner.

Case Control and Management documents which serve as the basis for controlling and guiding the investigative activity. Records identifying confidential sources and contacts with them. Index to persons reported by 'Name Only'.

Regional Laboratory Report Records. Records reporting and documenting laboratory analysis of submitted evidence.

Consolidated Evidence Inventory Records. Reporting and documenting evidence analyzed, stowed, transferred, or destroyed. Wiretap Data Records. Automated listing of persons who were subjects of wiretapping or eavesdropping operations.

Case Control and Narcotics Data Records. Automated records used only for statistical purposes in accounting for productivity, manhour expenditures; various statistical data concerning narcotics usage and used solely for statistical purposes.

Screening Board Reports. These reports set forth the results of oral examination of applicants for a position as a Special Agent with NCIS.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS:

STORAGE:

Paper and automated records.

RETRIEVABILITY:

NCIS permanent files are filed by terminal digit number. In order to locate the file it is necessary to query the Defense Central Index of Investigations (DCII) computer using the name of the subject and at least one other personal identifier such as date of birth, place of birth, or Social Security Number. Files may also be retrieved by a case control number assigned at the time the investigation is initiated. Copies of the files in the NCISROs and Resident Agencies are retrieved by name. Consolidated Evidence Facility and Regional Forensic Lab information is retrieved by name, case control number, submitting agency log number, log numbers, or lab numbers.

SAFEGUARDS:

NCIS investigative files (permanent and temporary) are maintained and stored in open shelves and filing cabinets located in secured areas accessible only to authorized personnel. Controls have been established to restrict computer output to only authorized users at all system locations. Computer records are kept in secure continually manned areas and are accessible only to authorized computer operators. Dated files are retired to the Washington National Records Center where retrieval is restricted to NCIS authorized personnel.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Retention of completed NCIS investigative files on Personnel Security Investigations (PSI's) is authorized for 15 years unless adverse information is developed, in which case they may be retained for 25 years. PSI files on persons considered for affiliation with DOD will be destroyed within one year if the affiliation is not consummated.

Special Agent applicant records are retained for one year if the applicant declines offer of employment and five years if the applicant is rejected for employment.

Criminal files are retained for 25 years. Major investigations of a counterintelligence/security nature, of espionage or sabotage, may be retained permanently.

Investigations to have possible historical value may be offered to the National Archives for continued retention. Counterintelligence records on persons not affiliated with DOD must be destroyed within 90 days or one year under criteria set forth in DOD Directive 5200.27, unless retention is required by law or specifically approved by the Secretary of the Navy.

Decentralized consolidated evidence files and decentralized laboratory report files are destroyed after 5 years unless circumstances require longer retention.

Files retained in the NCISRO's and resident agencies are temporary and are destroyed after 90 days or one year, as appropriate.

Section 1082. "DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION CONCERNING UNACCOUNTED FOR UNITED STATES PERSONNEL OF THE COLD WAR, THE KOREAN CONFLICT, AND THE VIETNAM ERA".

(a) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION - (1) Except as provided in subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense shall, with respect to any information referred to in paragraph (2), place the information in a suitable library-like location within a facility within the National Capital region for public review and photocopying.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) applies to any record, live-sighting report, or other information in the custody of the official custodian referred to in subsection (d)(3) that may pertain to the location, treatment, or condition of (A) United States personnel who remain not accounted for as a result of service in the Armed Forces or other Federal Government service during the Korean conflict, the Vietnam era, or the Cold War, or (B) their remains."

(B) For purposes of this section, a Vietnam-era POW/MIA is any member of the Armed Forces or civilian employee of the United States who was at any time classified as a prisoner of war or missing in action during the Vietnam era and whose person or remains have not been returned to United States control.

(A) the record or other information is exempt from the disclosure requirements of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, by reason of subsection (b) of that section; or

(B) the record or other information is in a system of records exempt from the requirements of subsection (d) of section 552a of such title pursuant to subsection (j) or (k) of that section.

(2) The Secretary of Defense may not make a record or other information available to the public pursuant to subsection (a) if the record or other information specifically mentions a person by name unless --

(A) in the case of a person who is alive (and not incapacitated) and whose whereabouts are known, that person expressly consents in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information; or

(B) in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown, a family member or family members of that person determined by the Secretary of Defense to be appropriate for such purpose expressly consent in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information.

(3) (A) The limitation on disclosure in paragraph (2) does not apply in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown if the family member or members of that person determined pursuant to subparagraph (B) of that paragraph cannot be located after a reasonable effort.

(B) Paragraph (2) does not apply to the access of an adult member of the family of a person to any record or information to the extent that the record or other information relates to that person.

Such records or other information shall be made available as soon as a review carried out for the purposes of subsection (b) is completed.*

(2) Whenever a department or agency of the Federal Government receives any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) that is required by this section to be made available to the public, the head of that department or agency shall ensure that such record or other information is provided to the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary shall make such record or other information available in accordance with subsection (a) as soon as possible and in any event not later than one year after the date on which the record or information is received by the department or agency of the Federal Government.

August 31, 2022 Production 000332

(3) If the Secretary of Defense determines that the disclosure of any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) by the date required by paragraph (1) or (2) may compromise the safety of any United States personnel referred to in subsection (a)(2) who remain not accounted for but who may still be alive in captivity, then the Secretary may withhold that record or other information from the disclosure otherwise required by this section. Whenever the Secretary makes a determination under the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall immediately notify the President and the Congress of that determination.

(3) The term "official custodian" means --

(B) in the case of records, reports, and information relating to the Vietnam era, the Secretary of Defense.

INFORMATION SHEET TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words treatment, location or condition appear in that paragraph of Public Law 102-190 (referred to as the McCain Bill) which defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g. Committee Reports, speeches, debates, testimony, etc.). In this case there is no legislative history which would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korea and Cold War casualties, the DPMO should apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation, with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply any further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment", "location", and/or "condition". Nevertheless, in our work thus far we have developed some examples of each category which may be helpful in you analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

TREATMENT

- * Circumstances of capture/internment
- * Medical treatment or lack thereof
- * Availability of food and water
- * Interrogation techniques / torture
- * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

- LOCATION
- * Identifiable geographic feature, e.g. river, lake, mountain
 - * Place name (village, city)
 - * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
 - * Distance from a known point
 - * 6 digit UTM coordinate or greater
 - * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)
- CONDITION
- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
 - * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
 - * Description of cause/circumstances of death

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to McCain. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it can also be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of our redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When you encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

Scope & Content: This series consists of original and electrostatic copies of dossiers of repatriated American Navy, Marine Corps, and Army Prisoners of War (POW's) who were exchanged or returned under the provisions of Articles 109 and 110 of the Geneva Convention. Included also are dossiers of POW's exchanged during the joint United Nations Command and North Korean "Operation Little Switch" and "Operation Big Switch." The records contain military intelligence summaries of interrogations of returned or exchanged servicemen. They describe the details of captures and escapes (dates and locations), interrogations by enemy forces, enemy strategic intelligence information, enemy military maneuvers, war crimes and atrocities, casualties, number of POWs in a camp, and the proximity of foreign enemy military personnel (Chinese and Russian) an information relating to treatment, location, and condition of prisoners. The files may also contain psychiatric evaluations, social background history information, and debriefing materials. Some of the dossiers were categorized "special intelligence" because of alleged collaboration with the enemy during captivity.

Scope & Content: The records consist of the February 1995 report of DFI International to the Defense Prisoner of War/Missing in Action Office (DPMO). This report describes the findings of the year-long project, POW/MIA Archive Research in Ukraine, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, and German. Nine months after the US-Russian Joint Commission on POW/MIAs was created, the Archive Project was formed in the realization that the Russian side of the Commission did not provide full access to Soviet Archives. The purpose of the Archive Project was to determine if information concerning American citizens and American POW/MIAs was stored in Soviet Era Archives located in the former republics of the Soviet Union. Additionally, the archives of Germany were searched to determine if American POW/MIAs had been relocated to the GDR during the Korean War. The report describes the resultant information gleaned from an extensive research of archives in Ukraine, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, and Germany that was intended to identify records related to Korean, Cold War, and Vietnam POW/MIA incidents.

Following the executive summary, the report is organized into six volumes organized by country. Each volume has an accompanying appendix comprised of copies of archival records taken from each country.

Documents acquired by the Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) from Russian and other foreign archives relating to unaccounted-for POW/MIAs from World War II and the Korean Conflict era. These materials are copies of documents in Russian (former Soviet) archives including an academic dissertation on the Korean War and a WWII-era Soviet map of North Korea. These materials are Task Force Russia (TFR) documents numbers 281, 294, 313, 341, 413, 423, 441, and 468-566 in the original Russian and the unredacted six-volume study entitled "POW/MIA Archival Research Project" conducted by Paul Cole while on contract with DOD. Filed with these papers are index sheets prepared by DPMO that provide date of receipt and source, if known, and a brief summary of the individual documents. These documents and the summary are subject to 50 USC 435 (McCain Bill) and 5 USC Sec 552 (FOIA). The McCain Bill requires permission of the Primary next of Kin for release of information on an individual POW/MIA or the redaction of the name and service number. Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them. ~~Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them.~~

59578 Federal Register / Vol. 62, No. 213 / Tuesday, November 4, 1997 / Rules and Regulations

Effect of Director's Decision

Section 503 of SMCRA provides that a State may not exercise jurisdiction under SMCRA unless the State program is approved by the Secretary. Similarly, 30 CFR 732.17(a) requires that any alteration of an approved State program be submitted to OSM for review as a program amendment. The Federal regulations at 30 CFR 732.17(g) prohibit any unilateral changes to approved State programs. In the oversight of the Indiana program, the Director will recognize only the statutes, regulations and other materials approved by OSM, together with any consistent implementing policies, directives and other materials, and will require the enforcement by Indiana of only such provisions.

VI. Procedural Determinations

Executive Order 12868

This rule is exempted from review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under Executive Order 12868 (Regulatory Planning and Review).

Executive Order 12958

The Department of the Interior has conducted the reviews required by section 3 of Executive Order 12958 (Civil Justice Reform) and has determined that, to the extent allowed by law, this rule meets the applicable standards of subsections (a) and (b) of that section. However, these standards are not applicable to the actual language of State regulatory programs and program amendments since each such program is drafted and promulgated by a specific State, not by OSM. Under sections 503 and 505 of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1253 and 1255) and 30 CFR 730.11, 732.15, and 732.17(h)(10), decisions on proposed State regulatory programs and program amendments submitted by the States must be based solely on a determination of whether the submittal is consistent with SMCRA and its implementing Federal regulations and whether the other requirements of 30 CFR Parts 730, 731, and 732 have been met.

National Environmental Policy Act

No environmental impact statement is required for this rule since section 702(d) of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1292(d)) provides that agency decisions on proposed State regulatory program provisions do not constitute major Federal actions within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not contain information collection requirements that require approval by OMB under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3507 et seq.).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Department of the Interior has determined that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The State submittal which is the subject of this rule is based upon corresponding Federal regulations for which an economic analysis was prepared and certification made that such regulations would not have a significant economic effect upon a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, this rule will ensure that existing requirements previously promulgated by OSM will be implemented by the State. In making the determination as to whether this rule would have a significant economic impact, the Department relied upon the data and assumptions for the corresponding Federal regulations.

Unfunded Mandates

OSM has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq.) that this rule will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local, state, or tribal governments or private entities.

OSD Privacy Program

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DOD.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Office of the Secretary of Defense is exempting a system of records identified as DUSP 11, entitled POW/Missing Personnel Office Files. The exemption is needed to protect information properly classified under E.O. 12958, Classified National Security Information.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1997.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. David Bosworth at (703) 695-0970.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The proposed rule was published on August 1, 1997, at 62 FR 41423. No comments were received, therefore, the rule is being adopted as published.

Executive Order 12886. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not constitute "significant regulatory action". Analysis of the rule indicates that it does not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; does not create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency; does not materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; does not raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in Executive Order 12888.

Regulatory Flexibility Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not have significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it is concerned only with the administration of Privacy Act systems of records within the Department of Defense.

Paperwork Reduction Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense imposes no information requirements beyond the Department of Defense and that the information collected within the Department of Defense is necessary and consistent with 5 U.S.C. 552a, known as the Privacy Act, and 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35.

List of Subjects in 32 CFR Part 311 Privacy.

Accordingly, 32 CFR part 311 is amended as follows:

PART 311—(AMENDED)

1. The authority citation for 32 CFR part 311 continues to read as follows:

Authority: Pub.L. 83-379, 88 Stat 1696 (5 U.S.C. 552a).

2. Section 311.7, is amended by adding paragraphs (c)(11)(i) through (c)(11)(iii) to read as follows:

§ 311.7 Procedures for exemptions.

(c) * * *
(11) System identifier and name: DUSP 11, POW/Missing Personnel Office Files.

(i) Exemption: Information classified under E.O. 12958, as implemented by DoD 5200.1-R, may be exempt pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(ii) Authority: 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(iii) Reasons: From subsection 5 U.S.C. 552a(d) because granting access to information that is properly classified pursuant to E.O. 12958, as implemented by DoD 5200.1-R, may cause damage to the national security.

Foreword

The intent of the "McCain Bill" is to make available to the public information relating to America's unaccounted-for servicemembers, while still respecting the privacy and desires of the primary-next-of-kin.

The statute levies guidelines for reviewing, processing, and forwarding information for public review.

This booklet highlights the history and application of the McCain Bill legislation.

"The McCain Bill" A Brief History

On December 5, 1991, Congress enacted 50 USC § 435 Note as Public Law 102-190, commonly referred to as the McCain Bill. The statute requires the Secretary of Defense to make available to the public—in a "library like setting"—all information relating to the treatment, location, and/or condition (T-L-C) of United States personnel who are unaccounted-for from the Vietnam War. The facility chosen to receive this information is the Library of Congress (LoC). The Secretary of Defense is named as the "official custodian."

Prior to release of T-L-C information, the Department of Defense is required to obtain written consent from the primary-next-of-kin (PNOK) to release publicly such information. In the case of those unaccounted-for from the Vietnam era, letters were mailed to the 2,266 PNOKs; responses were received from 1,893. Of these, approximately 366 declined consent to release T-L-C information. Another 243 PNOKs were located but failed to respond. Each of these is, therefore, considered a PNOK "no" under the provisions of the statute. Following a reasonable search, 130 PNOKs could not be located. Based upon the pro-release intent of the statute, these 130 PNOKs were considered to have given their consent to release T-L-C information. A database was established reflecting PNOK responses and is updated as cases are resolved. Hard copy lists are provided to all offices of the federal government that deal with this issue. The Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office (DPMO) continues to receive PNOK consent for release of information on the unaccounted-for.

Highlights

- McCain Bill also applies to photographs

Key things to remember

- Not an issue of classification
- "Pro release"
- T-L-C: ask the question?
- Consider PNOK Consent/Non-consent

Highlights

- The law does not apply to returnees and negotiated remains prior to December 1991.
- McCain does not apply once remains are repatriated, identified, and returned to the PNOK.

Highlights

- Names and Refnos of PNOK "no's" can be found in the LoC.
- Lists of names/Refnos
- McCain only applies when information pertains to T-L-C.

The McCain Bill has been amended twice since it was originally signed. The first amendment was in the FY95 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment incorporated the Korean and Cold War unaccounted-for under similar provisions as the Vietnam War unaccounted-for. However, the statute established the National Archives as the "library like setting" for this material and made the Archivist of the United States the "official custodian."

The second amendment was in the FY96 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment established a 90-day period to locate and gain permission from the PNOK to release information regarding T-L-C of those unaccounted-for from the Korean/Cold War. (Note: The 90-day rule applies only to Korea/Cold War.) DPMO is developing a comprehensive database similar to the one established for the Vietnam War and will distribute the information once it has been completed.

The McCain Bill does not specifically direct declassification. Its "pro-release" intent does, however, imply such action to make the information available to the public. Compliance with the PNOK's non-consent does limit the Government's ability to release publicly all information containing T-L-C data that is declassified.

50 United States Code Section 435 Note

DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION CONCERNING UNACCOUNTED FOR UNITED STATES PERSONNEL OF THE COLD WAR, THE KOREAN CONFLICT, AND THE VIETNAM ERA.

(a) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION - (1) Except as provided in subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense shall, with respect to any information referred to in paragraph (2), place the information in a suitable library-like location within a facility within the National Capital region for public review and photocopying.

(2) Paragraph (1) applies to any record, live-sighting report, or other information in the custody of the official custodian referred to in subsection (d) (3) that may pertain to the location, treatment, or condition of (A) United States personnel who remain not accounted for as a result of service in the Armed Forces or other Federal Government service during the Korean conflict, the Vietnam era, or the Cold War, or (B) their remains.

(b) EXCEPTIONS - (1) The Secretary of Defense may not make a record or other information available to the public pursuant to subsection (a) if -

(A) the record or other information is exempt from the disclosure requirements of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, by reason of subsection (b) of that section; or

(B) the record or other information is in a system of records exempt from the requirements of subsection (d) of section 552a of such title pursuant to subsection (j) or (k) of that section.

(2) The Secretary of Defense may not make a record or other information available to the public pursuant to subsection (a) if the record or other information specifically mentions a person by name unless -

Highlights

- Name and Reference Number (Refno) are treated the same.
- Family members of the unaccounted-for are not protected under the provisions of the law. (Incl. PNOK "no's")

Highlights

- The McCain Bill applies to all material released by DoD.
- Includes material generated in the past, that which is produced in the present, and any which may be developed in the future.

Treatment, Location, &/or Condition

Condition:

- Physical or mental condition
- Specific injuries
- Remains
- Non-biological evidence

Highlights

- The McCain Bill is not an issue of classification.
- The McCain Bill also applies to unclassified information.

(A) in the case of a person who is alive (and not incapacitated) and whose whereabouts are known, that person expressly consents in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information; or

(B) in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown, a family member or family members of that person determined by the Secretary of Defense to be appropriate for such purpose expressly consent in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information.

(3) (A) The limitation on disclosure in paragraph (2) does not apply in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown if the family member or members of that person determined pursuant to subparagraph (B) of that paragraph cannot be located by the Secretary of Defense -

(i) in the case of a person missing from the Vietnam era, after a reasonable effort; and

(ii) in the case of a person missing from the Korean Conflict or Cold War, after a period of 90 days from the date on which any record or other information referred to in paragraph (2) is received by the Department of Defense for disclosure review from the Archivist of the United States, the Library of Congress, or the Joint United States - Russian Commission on POW/MIA's.

(B) Paragraph (2) does not apply to the access of an adult member of the family of a person to any record or information to the extent that the record or other information relates to that person.

(C) The authority of a person to consent to disclosure of a record or other information for the purposes of paragraph (2) may be delegated to another person or an organization only by means of an express legal power of attorney granted by the person authorized by that paragraph to consent to the disclosure.

(c) DEADLINES - (1) In the case of records or other information originated by the Department of Defense, the official custodian shall make such records and other information available to the public pursuant to this section not later than January 2, 1996. Such records or other information shall be made available as soon as a review carried out for the purposes of subsection (b) is completed.

(2) Whenever a department or agency of the Federal Government receives any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) that is required by this section to be made available to the public, the head of that department or agency shall ensure that such record or other information is provided to the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary shall make such record or other information available in accordance with subsection (a) as soon as possible and, in any event, not later than one year after the date on which the record or information is received by the department or agency of the Federal Government.

(3) If the Secretary of Defense determines that the disclosure of any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) by the date required by paragraph (1) or (2) may compromise the safety of any United States personnel referred to in subsection (a)(2) who remain not accounted for but who may still be alive in captivity, then the Secretary may withhold that record or other information from the disclosure otherwise required by this section. Whenever the Secretary makes a determination under the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall immediately notify the President and the Congress of that determination.

(d) DEFINITIONS - For purposes of this section:

(1) The terms "Korean conflict" and "Vietnam era" have the meanings given those terms in section 101 of title 38, United States Code.

(2) The term "Cold War" means the period from the end of World War II to the beginning of the Korean conflict and the period from the end of the Korean conflict to the beginning of the Vietnam era.

(3) The term "official custodian" is --

PNOK Consent/Non-Consent

"Cannot be located" is defined as:

- Vietnam PNOK: After reasonable effort to locate.
- Korean/Cold War PNOK: After 90 days of trying to locate.

The Decision-making Process

Congress offered no formal guidelines for establishing review procedures necessary to determine whether information containing "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" may be released to the public. The following guidelines have been developed over many years based on experience, analysis of documents, and extensive legal counsel.

These guidelines have been applied to more than a million pages of information that has been released to the Library of Congress, family members, Congress, and interested individuals and groups through declassification efforts under Executive Order 12812, Freedom of Information requests, and the Mandatory Declassification Review process.

Definitions

TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" appear in that paragraph of 50 United States Code Section 435 Note (referred to as the McCain Bill) that defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction, we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g., committee reports; speeches; debates; testimony; etc.). In this case, there is no legislative history that would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korean, and Cold War casualties, DPMO will apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted-for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment," "location," and/or "condition." Nevertheless, in work thus far we have developed examples for each category that may be helpful in one's analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- Circumstances of capture/imprisonment
 - Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - Availability of food and water
 - Interrogation techniques/torture
 - Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

History of the Law

First Amendment

- FY 95 National Defense Authorization Act

History of the Law

Second Amendment

- FY 96 National Defense Authorization Act
- 90-days to locate Korean/Cold War PNOK

KEY POINTS

50 United States Code
Section 435 Note

"The McCain Bill"

History of the Law

- Senator McCain
- 5 December 1991
- Vietnam
- Two Amendments

LOCATION

- Identifiable geographic feature (river, lake, mountain)
- Place name (village, city, hamlet - not province)
- Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
- Distance from a known point
- 8 digit or greater UTM coordinate
- GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)

CONDITION

- Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
- Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
- Description of cause/circumstances of death
- Remains (to include those referenced during a Joint Field Activity but not positively identified)
- Non-biological evidence (such as that which implies the individuals did not exit the aircraft—e.g. ejection seat, parachute parts, other life support equipment)

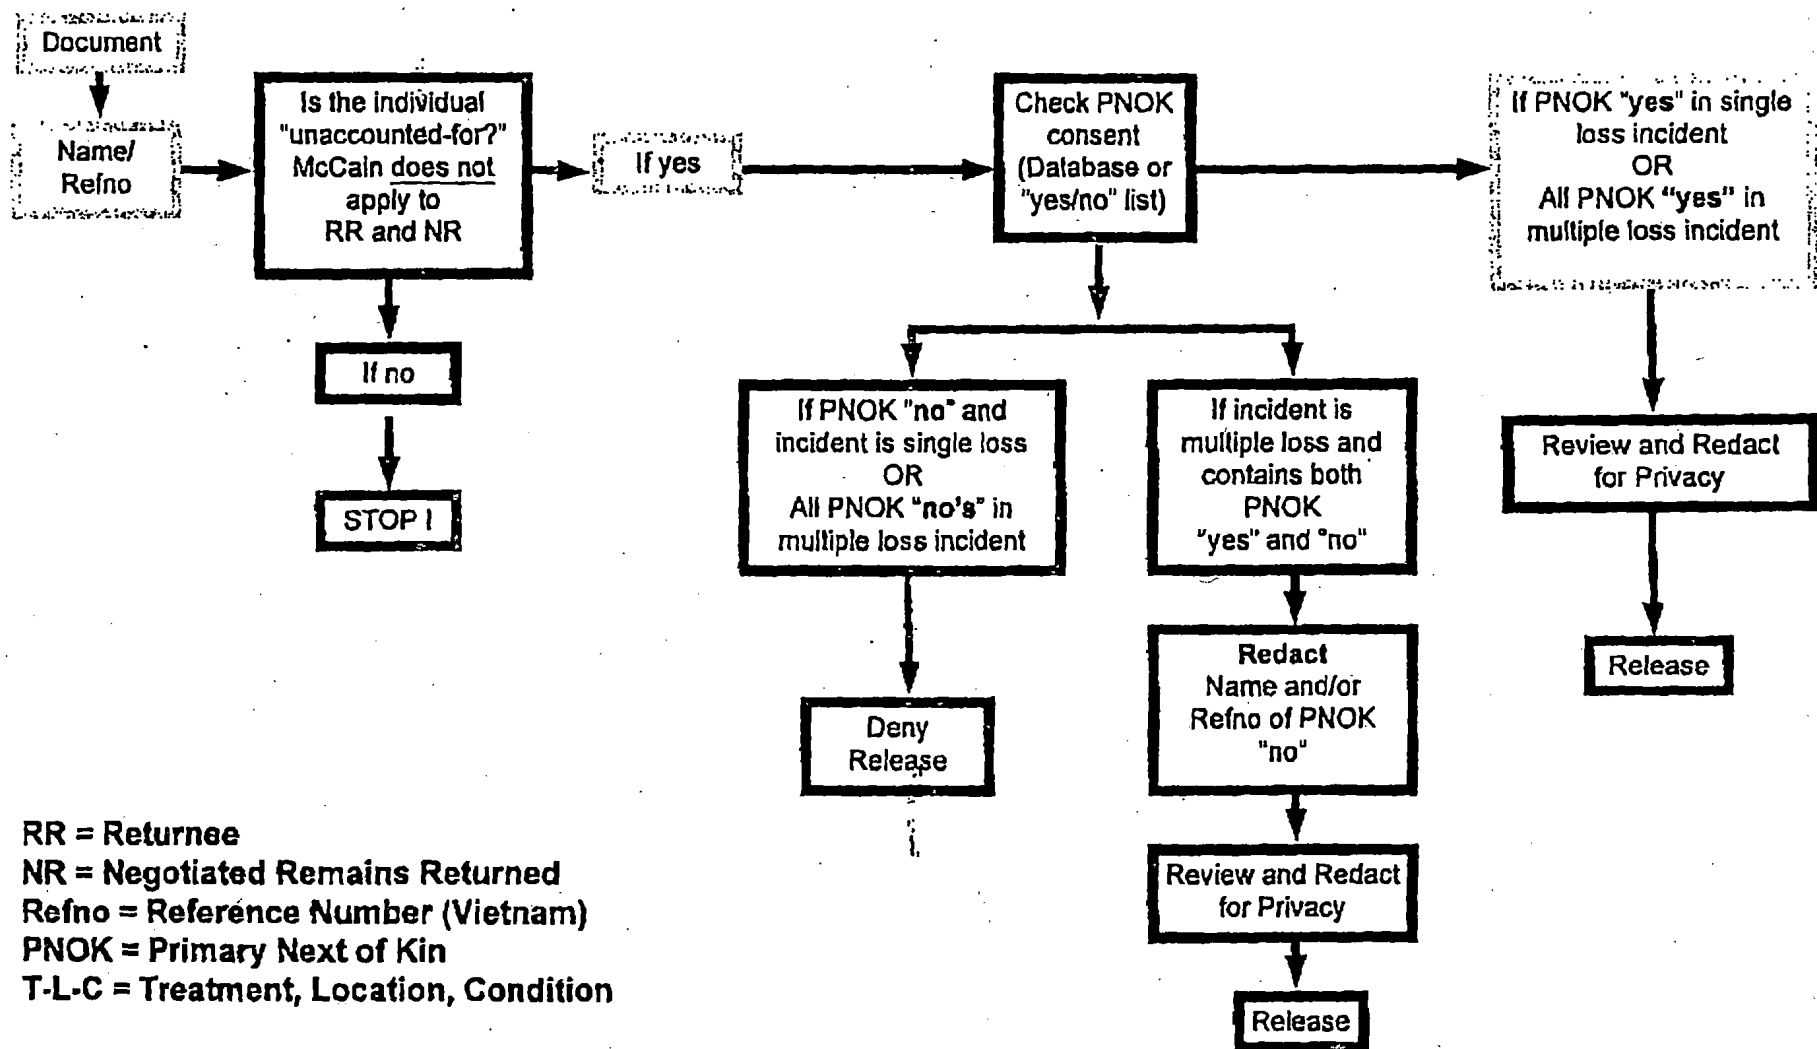

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to the McCain Bill. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it also can be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of DPMO's redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When we encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, such as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES

Date: November 27, 2015
To: RDE
From: RDE
Subject: 3-330-01-013

Between January and July 2001, the Department of Defense, Defense Prisoner of War / Missing Personnel Office initiated three transfers to transfer a total of 63 Portable Document Format (PDF) files to the Electronic and Special Media Records Services Division of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) via FTP. The accession was assigned NN3-330-01-013, and legal custody was accepted for the transfer by Jeanne Schauble, NWMD, in October 2001. The accession has 63 logical data records.

This transfer of "Task Force Russia" Case Files was considered an accretion to a number of previous accessions of paper records including 3-330-99-003, 3-330-99-004, 3-330-00-002, and 3-330-01-007. A copy of the accession dossier for 3-330-00-002 from RDTPA is enclosed, as is an unsigned copy of the SF-258 for 3-330-01-013 from the working files of Ed McCeney.

At the time of the proposed transfer, NARA was piloting transferring born-digital records via File Transfer Protocol (FTP). As documented in the enclosed email from Ed McCeney dated November 30, 2000, NWME agreed to coordinate the technical electronic transfer support for these records. The expectation was that NWMD would subsequently print the PDF files to paper and interfile with the previously received records. At the time, PDF was not an acceptable transfer format for born-digital records, so the plan to print to paper was in keeping with the standards of that time.

On November 25, 2015, I contacted RDTPA to determine whether or not the printing and interfiling ever took place. I viewed the series Copies of Documents Received by the Joint Committee Support Directorate of the defense POW / MIA Office located in Stack 550, A:04. These records consist of paper case files for "Task Force Russia," arranged numerically by case file number, with the highest number recorded TFR 506. The PDF case files generally have numbers higher than TFR 506. Therefore, I determined that the plan to print the PDF case files to paper and interfile never took place. I decided to complete the accessioning process for the 63 PDF files as electronic records.

The documentation is filed in stack 530 under Record Group 330. The NARA documentation consists of a list of documentation, user note, list of the files, and PDF verification report. The agency provided no index or other documentation.

I have prepared one DAS series descriptions for the Task Force Russia (TFR) Case Files (NAID 24493471). These records are not appropriate for inclusion in the Access to Archival Databases (AAD) system.

The data is exempt from disclosure under FOIA b(3), 50 USC 435 (The McCain Act). The records are mostly in Russian and will need to be reviewed by a Russian language expert prior to release.

On November 27, 2015, the files were ingested to ERA. In ERA, the files are associated with TR-0330-2016-0142 and LTI-0330-2016-0142. I reviewed the Transfer Manifest and Transfer Shipment Aggregate Report to verify the successful ingest of the records in this accession. I reviewed the Ingest Verification Reports and found no problems. No discrepancies were noted on TPR-0330-2016-0142.

Given that the SF-258 has already been signed, this accession should be considered complete. A copy of this memo and unsigned SF-258 will be provided to RDTPA to interfile in the dossier for 3-330-01-013.

Dear Major Falkowski:

Attached you will find a copy of Standard Form 258 authorizing the transfer of the cited Task Force Russia Files to the National Archives. The Department of Defense records officer should sign in Block 2A to authorize the transfer. The signed 258 should be returned to Ms. Fe Cojeen, NW-A Room 3400, National Archives and Records Administration, 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park MD 20740.

I should note that in the CD you transferred that the following documents contained only an English language listing of documents and not copies of the original Russian language documentation. They are TFRs 487R, 520R, and 525R. While we copied the contents out on to hard copy, we still need copies of the original documentation before we can formally accession these files.

If you have any questions about the transfer, please feel free to contact me at 301-713-7159 or at Richard.Wood@nara.gov.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Richard E. Wood".

1. INTERIM CONTROL NUMBER: Leave blank. NARA will fill in.

2. AGENCY APPROVAL: The agency records officer having the delegated authority to transfer the records with NARA should sign and date the form here (2A) and provide his/her name, title and mailing address (2B).

3. NARA APPROVAL: When a proposal to transfer records to the National Archives of the United States is approved, the appropriate NARA official completes 3A and 3B.

4A/B. RECORDS SERIES TITLE/DATE SPAN OF SERIES: The information provided should include a records series title, a statement of how the records are arranged, dates of coverage, and sufficient detail to describe the body of records being transferred. If access to the records is gained or facilitated through an index, box list, or other finding aid, include it with the records being transferred. Indicate the appropriate disposition authority number if the index is scheduled separately. If the records are in a Federal records center (FRC) attach each applicable SF 135, Records Transmittal and Receipt. For electronic records, describe any related documentation.

5. Fully identify the unit (5D) that created or organized the records. Usually this is not the agency's records management office. Place the creating unit within its organizational hierarchy (5A-5C). For example, the responsible unit is a branch (5D), within a division (minor subdivision) (5C), within an office (major subdivision) (5B), and within the agency or major component of a department (5A). Block 5A should be the official or legal name of the agency or bureau as published in the U.S. Government Manual. In block 5E include the name and telephone number (including the area code) of a person who should be contacted if NARA has any questions about the records. If the originating agency no longer exists, provide the name of the contact person at the successor agency.

6. DISPOSITION AUTHORITY: This citation must be included. It can be either the item number assigned to the records within a records disposition schedule (SF 115) approved by NARA or the item number assigned to the records within an agency records disposition manual based on a NARA-approved SF 115. If the agency manual number is used, attach a copy of the pertinent pages from the agency manual.

7. IS SECURITY CLASSIFIED INFORMATION PRESENT? If the records contain security classified information, check "Yes" and indicate the highest level of classification present. Indicate any additional applicable national security special access restrictions (e.g., Sensitive

Check "Declassified" to indicate whether any records have been declassified, and provide both the authority for declassification and a description of the declassified records.

8. CURRENT LOCATION OF RECORDS: Check the appropriate box for the current location of the records. If the records currently are in a Federal records center, complete 8B. If the records are located in the transferring agency or other location, complete 8A.

8A. For records located in the transferring agency or other location, provide a complete address.

8B. For records located in a Federal records center, name the center, provide the FRC accession number and container number(s), and the FRC location.

9. PHYSICAL FORM(S): Check all the boxes that apply to the records included in the transfer.

10. VOLUME: Include both the cubic feet of the records and the number and type of containers holding the records. For example: Cu. ft. 15; Number 15; Type FRC boxes. Provide separate volume figures for each physical type of records, continuing on a separate sheet as necessary.

11. DATE RECORDS ELIGIBLE FOR TRANSFER TO THE ARCHIVES: Indicate the date the records are eligible for deposit in the National Archives. This date is determined by the disposition instructions for each item in the approved SF 115 or agency manual.

12. ARE THE RECORDS FULLY AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC USE? If the records are exempt from release pursuant to the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(1)-(9) and (c)(1)-(3), this must be fully justified. List all exemptions that apply. If exemption (b)(1) is cited, complete block 7 accordingly. If (b)(3) is cited, include the full citation for the relevant statute. If the records are subject to copyright, identify affected items and the copyright holder.

13. ARE THESE RECORDS SUBJECT TO THE PRIVACY ACT? The National Archives is required to notify the public, through the Federal Register, when it takes custody of records subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a. The originating agency should use this block to indicate whether the records covered by this SF 258 are part of a Privacy Act "system of records" and include a citation to and a copy of the Privacy Act notice published by the agency for the system. NARA will use the transferring agency's notice to inform the public, through the Federal Register, that the records have been transferred to the National Archives and that no further modification of them is possible.

14. ATTACHMENTS: Check the appropriate box(es) and indicate the attachment(s) being submitted with this form.

15. SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS TO AGENCIES/REMARKS REGARDING DISPOSITION: NARA uses this space to provide shipping instructions relating to transfers.

Documents acquired by the Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) from Russian Archives relating to unaccounted-for POW/MIAs from World War II, the Korean Conflict and the Cold War era. These materials are copies of documents in Russian (former Soviet) archives, letters from Soviet citizens, and Russian press reports/articles concerning POW/MIAs and America's search for them. These materials are Task Force Russia (TFR) documents numbers 68-69, 71-79, 109-110, 113-115, 117-126, 128--280, 282-293, 295-312, 314-340, 342-370, 372-386, 388-412, 414-422, 424-440, 442-467 in the original Russian. Some documents also have rough (NOT CERTIFIED) English translations. These materials also include several messages documenting interviews in Russia. Filed with these papers is a searchable WORD 97 file prepared by DPMO that provide date of receipt and source, if known, and a summary of the individual documents. The documents and the summaries are subject to 50 USC Sec 435 (McCain Bill) and 5 USC Sec 552 (FOIA). The McCain Bill requires permission of the Primary-Next of-Kin for release of information on an individual POW/MIA or redaction of the name and service number. Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them.

58578 Federal Register / Vol. 62, No. 213 / Tuesday, November 4, 1997 / Rules and Regulations

Effect of Director's Decision

Section 503 of SMCRA provides that a State may not exercise jurisdiction under SMCRA unless the State program is approved by the Secretary. Similarly, 30 CFR 732.17(a) requires that any alteration of an approved State program be submitted to OSM for review as a program amendment. The Federal regulations at 30 CFR 732.17(g) prohibit any unilateral changes to approved State programs. In the oversight of the Indiana program, the Director will recognize only the statutes, regulations and other materials approved by OSM, together with any consistent implementing policies, directives and other materials, and will require the enforcement by Indiana of only such provisions.

VI. Procedural Determinations

Executive Order 12888

This rule is exempted from review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under Executive Order 12888 (Regulatory Planning and Review).

Executive Order 12988

The Department of the Interior has conducted the reviews required by section 3 of Executive Order 12988 (Civil Justice Reform) and has determined that, to the extent allowed by law, this rule meets the applicable standards of subsections (a) and (b) of that section. However, these standards are not applicable to the actual language of State regulatory programs and program amendments since each such program is drafted and promulgated by a specific State, not by OSM. Under sections 503 and 505 of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1253 and 1255) and 30 CFR 730.11, 732.15, and 732.17(h)(10), decisions on proposed State regulatory programs and program amendments submitted by the States must be based solely on a determination of whether the submittal is consistent with SMCRA and its implementing Federal regulations and whether the other requirements of 30 CFR Parts 730, 731, and 732 have been met.

National Environmental Policy Act

No environmental impact statement is required for this rule since section 702(d) of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1292(d)) provides that agency decisions on proposed State regulatory program provisions do not constitute major Federal actions within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not contain information collection requirements that require approval by OMB under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3507 et seq.).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Department of the Interior has determined that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The State submittal which is the subject of this rule is based upon corresponding Federal regulations for which an economic analysis was prepared and certification made that such regulations would not have a significant economic effect upon a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, this rule will ensure that existing requirements previously promulgated by OSM will be implemented by the State. In making the determination as to whether this rule would have a significant economic impact, the Department relied upon the data and assumptions for the corresponding Federal regulations.

Unfunded Mandates

OSM has determined and certified pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq.) that this rule will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local, state, or tribal governments or private entities.

OSD Privacy Program
AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DOD.
ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Office of the Secretary of Defense is exempting a system of records identified as DUSP 11, entitled POW/Missing Personnel Office Files. The exemption is needed to protect information properly classified under E.O. 12958, Classified National Security Information.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1997.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. David Bosworth at (703) 695-0970.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The proposed rule was published on August 1, 1997, at 52 FR 41323. No comments were received, therefore, the rule is being adopted as published.

Executive Order 12886. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not constitute "significant regulatory action". Analysis of the rule indicates that it does not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; does not create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency; does not materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; does not raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in Executive Order 12886.

Regulatory Flexibility Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not have significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it is concerned only with the administration of Privacy Act systems of records within the Department of Defense.

Paperwork Reduction Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense imposes no information requirements beyond the Department of Defense and that the information collected within the Department of Defense is necessary and consistent with 5 U.S.C. 552a, known as the Privacy Act, and 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35.

Authority: Pub.L. 93-378, 88 Stat 1895 (5 U.S.C. 552a).

2. Section 311.7, is amended by adding paragraphs (c)(11)(i) through (c)(12)(iii) to read as follows:

§ 311.7 Procedures for exemptions.

(ii) Authority: 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(iii) Reasons: From subsection 5 U.S.C. 552a(d) because granting access to information that is properly classified pursuant to E.O. 12958, as implemented by DoD 5200.1-R, may cause damage to the national security.

NOTES

Foreword

The intent of the "McCain Bill" is to make available to the public information relating to America's unaccounted-for servicemembers, while still respecting the privacy and desires of the primary-next-of-kin.

The statute levies guidelines for reviewing, processing, and forwarding information for public review.

This booklet highlights the history and application of the McCain Bill legislation.

"The McCain Bill" A Brief History

On December 5, 1991, Congress enacted 50 USC § 435 Note as Public Law 102-190, commonly referred to as the McCain Bill. The statute requires the Secretary of Defense to make available to the public--in a "library like setting"--all information relating to the treatment, location, and/or condition (T-L-C) of United States personnel who are unaccounted-for from the Vietnam War. The facility chosen to receive this information is the Library of Congress (LoC). The Secretary of Defense is named as the "official custodian."

Prior to release of T-L-C information, the Department of Defense is required to obtain written consent from the primary-next-of-kin (PNOK) to release publicly such information. In the case of those unaccounted-for from the Vietnam era, letters were mailed to the 2,266 PNOKs; responses were received from 1,893. Of these, approximately 366 declined consent to release T-L-C information. Another 243 PNOKs were located but failed to respond. Each of these is, therefore, considered a PNOK "no" under the provisions of the statute. Following a reasonable search, 130 PNOKs could not be located. Based upon the pro-release intent of the statute, these 130 PNOKs were considered to have given their consent to release T-L-C information. A database was established reflecting PNOK responses and is updated as cases are resolved. Hard copy lists are provided to all offices of the federal government that deal with this issue. The Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office (DPMO) continues to receive PNOK consent for release of information on the unaccounted-for.

Highlights

- McCain Bill also applies to photographs

Key things to remember

- Not an issue of classification
- "Pro release"
- T-L-C: ask the question?
- Consider PNOK Consent/Non-consent

Highlights

- The law does not apply to returnees and negotiated remains prior to December 1991.
- McCain does not apply once remains are repatriated, identified, and returned to the PNOK.

Highlights

- Names and Refnos of PNOK "no's" can be found in the LoC.
 - Lists of names/Refnos
- McCain only applies when information pertains to T-L-C.

The McCain Bill has been amended twice since it was originally signed. The first amendment was in the FY95 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment incorporated the Korean and Cold War unaccounted-for under similar provisions as the Vietnam War unaccounted-for. However, the statute established the National Archives as the "library like setting" for this material and made the Archivist of the United States the "official custodian."

The second amendment was in the FY96 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment established a 90-day period to locate and gain permission from the PNOK to release information regarding T-L-C of those unaccounted-for from the Korean/Cold War. (Note: The 90-day rule applies only to Korea/Cold War.) DPMO is developing a comprehensive database similar to the one established for the Vietnam War and will distribute the information once it has been completed.

The McCain Bill does not specifically direct declassification. Its "pro-release" intent does, however, imply such action to make the information available to the public. Compliance with the PNOK's non-consent does limit the Government's ability to release publicly all information containing T-L-C data that is declassified.

50 United States Code Section 435 Note

DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION CONCERNING UNACCOUNTED FOR UNITED STATES PERSONNEL OF THE COLD WAR, THE KOREAN CONFLICT, AND THE VIETNAM ERA.

Treatment, Location, &/or Condition

Condition:

- Physical or mental condition
- Specific injuries
- Remains
- Non-biological evidence

Highlights

- The McCain Bill is not an issue of classification.
- The McCain Bill also applies to unclassified information.

(A) in the case of a person who is alive (and not incapacitated) and whose whereabouts are known, that person expressly consents in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information; or

(B) In the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown, a family member or family members of that person determined by the Secretary of Defense to be appropriate for such purpose expressly consent in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information.

(3) (A) The limitation on disclosure in paragraph (2) does not apply in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown if the family member or members of that person determined pursuant to subparagraph (B) of that paragraph cannot be located by the Secretary of Defense -

(i) in the case of a person missing from the Vietnam era, after a reasonable effort; and

(ii) in the case of a person missing from the Korean Conflict or Cold War, after a period of 90 days from the date on which any record or other information referred to in paragraph (2) is received by the Department of Defense for disclosure review from the Archivist of the United States, the Library of Congress, or the Joint United States - Russian Commission on POW/MIA's.

(B) Paragraph (2) does not apply to the access of an adult member of the family of a person to any record or information to the extent that the record or other information relates to that person.

(C) The authority of a person to consent to disclosure of a record or other information for the purposes of paragraph (2) may be delegated to another person or an organization only by means of an express legal power of attorney granted by the person authorized by that paragraph to consent to the disclosure.

(c) DEADLINES - (1) In the case of records or other information originated by the Department of Defense, the official custodian shall make such records and other information available to the public pursuant to this section not later than January 2, 1996. Such records or other information shall be made available as soon as a review carried out for the purposes of subsection (b) is completed.

(2) Whenever a department or agency of the Federal Government receives any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) that is required by this section to be made available to the public, the head of that department or agency shall ensure that such record or other information is provided to the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary shall make such record or other information available in accordance with subsection (a) as soon as possible and, in any event, not later than one year after the date on which the record or information is received by the department or agency of the Federal Government.

(3) If the Secretary of Defense determines that the disclosure of any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) by the date required by paragraph (1) or (2) may compromise the safety of any United States personnel referred to in subsection (a)(2) who remain not accounted for but who may still be alive in captivity, then the Secretary may withhold that record or other information from the disclosure otherwise required by this section. Whenever the Secretary makes a determination under the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall immediately notify the President and the Congress of that determination.

(d) DEFINITIONS - For purposes of this section:

(1) The terms "Korean conflict" and "Vietnam era" have the meanings given those terms in section 101 of title 38, United States Code.

(2) The term "Cold War" means the period from the end of World War II to the beginning of the Korean conflict and the period from the end of the Korean conflict to the beginning of the Vietnam era.

(3) The term "official custodian" is --

The Decision-making Process

Congress offered no formal guidelines for establishing review procedures necessary to determine whether information containing "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" may be released to the public. The following guidelines have been developed over many years based on experience, analysis of documents, and extensive legal counsel.

These guidelines have been applied to more than a million pages of information that has been released to the Library of Congress, family members, Congress, and interested individuals and groups through declassification efforts under Executive Order 12812, Freedom of Information requests, and the Mandatory Declassification Review process.

Definitions

TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" appear in that paragraph of 50 United States Code Section 435 Note (referred to as the McCain Bill) that defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction, we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g., committee reports; speeches; debates; testimony; etc.). In this case, there is no legislative history that would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korean, and Cold War casualties, DPMO will apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted-for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment," "location," and/or "condition." Nevertheless, in work thus far we have developed examples for each category that may be helpful in one's analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- Circumstances of capture/internment
 - Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - Availability of food and water
 - Interrogation techniques/torture
 - Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

History of the Law

First Amendment

- FY 95 National Defense Authorization Act
- Include Korea/Cold War

History of the Law

Second Amendment

- FY 96 National Defense Authorization Act
- 90-days to locate Korean/Cold War PNOK

KEY POINTS

50 United States Code
Section 435 Note

"The McCain Bill"

History of the Law

- Senator McCain
- 5 December 1991
- Vietnam
- Two Amendments

LOCATION

- * Identifiable geographic feature (river, lake, mountain)
- * Place name (village, city, hamlet - not province)
- * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
- * Distance from a known point
- * 8 digit or greater UTM coordinate
- * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)

CONDITION

- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
- * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
- * Description of cause/circumstances of death
- * Remains (to include those referenced during a Joint Field Activity but not positively identified)
- * Non-biological evidence (such as that which implies the individuals did not exit the aircraft—e.g. ejection seat, parachute parts, other life support equipment)

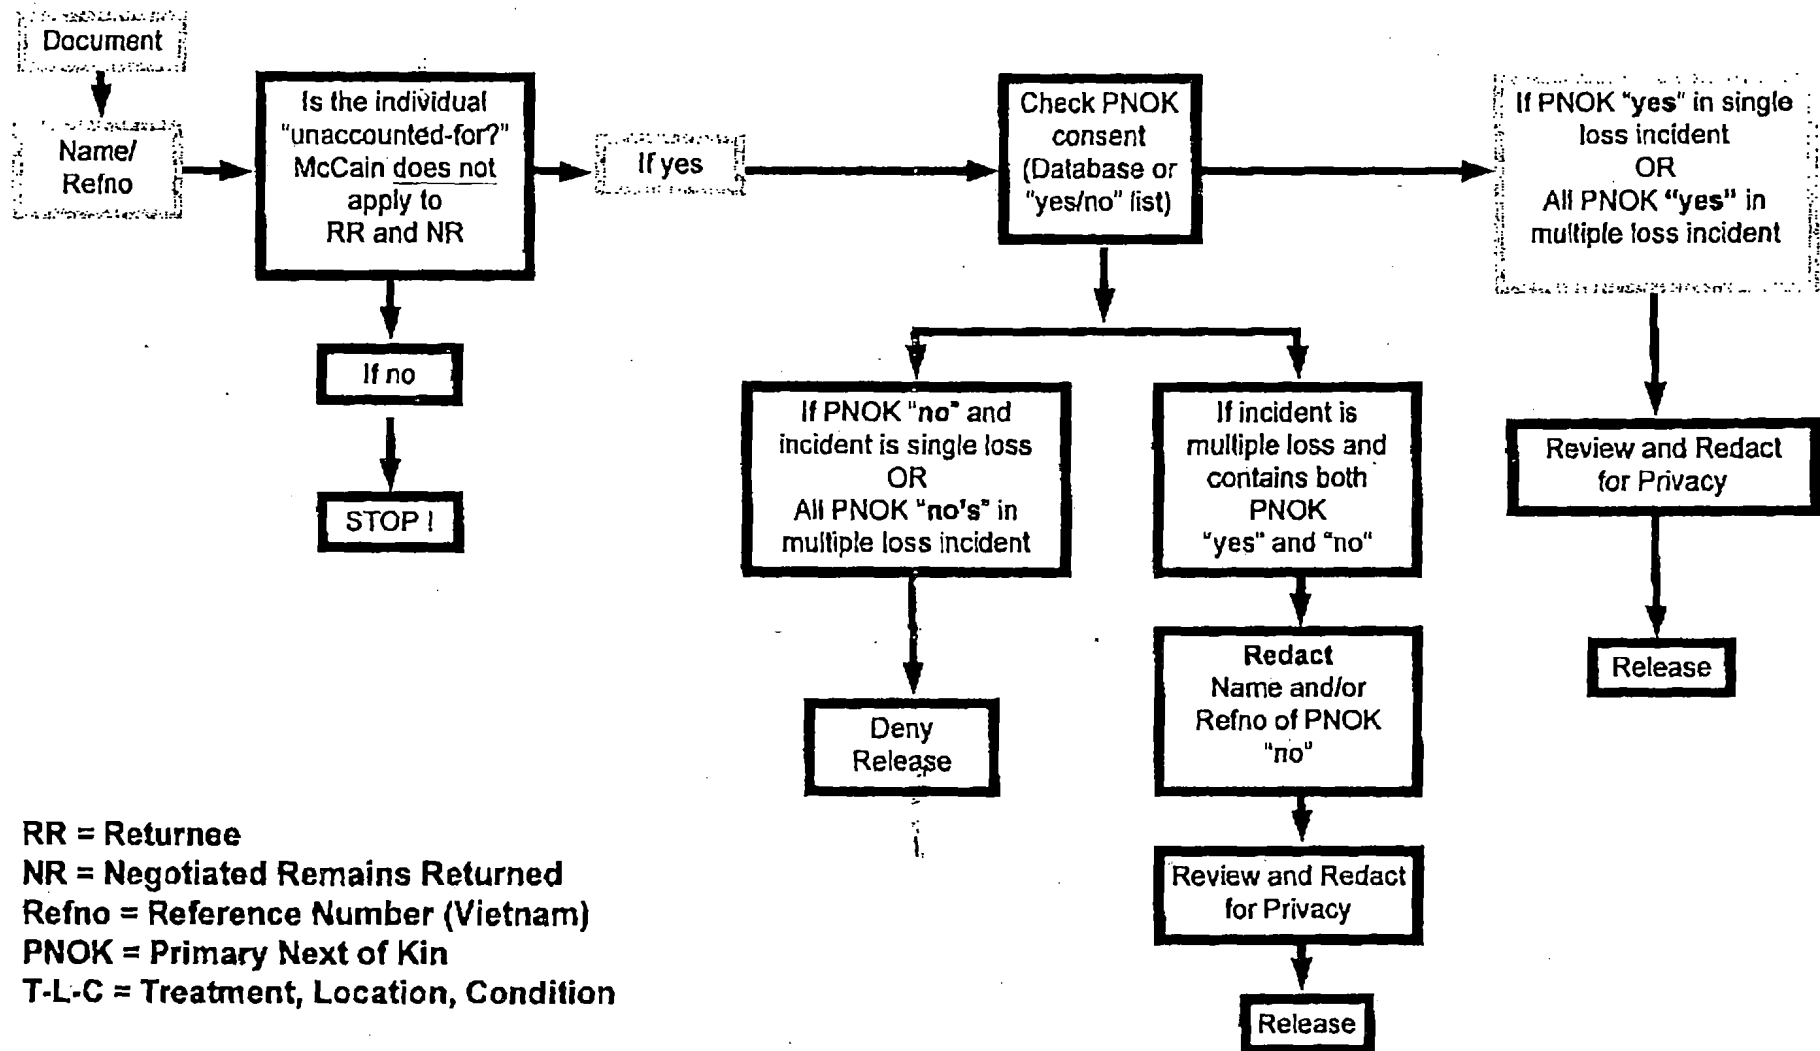

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to the McCain Bill. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it also can be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of DPMO's redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When we encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, such as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

Attn: Dave Bosworth

DATE: 2 Mar 01

This record certifies the transfer of documents acquired by the Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) from the Russian Ministry of Defense Archives relating to unaccounted-for POW/MIAs from the Korean War era. These materials are copies of documents found in Russian (former Soviet) military archives on Soviet participation in the Korean War. The following Task Force Russia (TFR) documents have been transferred to the National Archives: TFRs 581 / 582 / 583 / 592 / 593 / 594 / 595 / 600 / 601 / 602 / 603 / 610 / 612 / 614 / 630 / 631 / 632 / 633 / 634. These documents and the summary are subject to 50 USC 435 (McCain Bill) and 5 USC Sec 552 (FOIA). The McCain Bill requires permission of the Primary next of Kin for release of information on an individual POW/MIA or the redaction of the name and service number. Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them. Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them.

Attn: Dave Bosworth

Documents acquired by the Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) from Russian Archives relating to unaccounted-for POW/MIAs from World War II, the Korean Conflict and the Cold War era. These materials are copies of documents in Russian (former Soviet) archives, letters from Soviet citizens, and Russian press reports/articles concerning POW/MIAs and America's search for them. These materials are Task Force Russia (TFR) documents numbers 68-69, 71-79, 109-110, 113-115, 117-126, 128--280, 282-293, 295-312, 314-340, 342-370, 372-386, 388-412, 414-422, 424-440, 442-467 in the original Russian. Some documents also have rough (NOT CERTIFIED) English translations. These materials also include several messages documenting interviews in Russia. Filed with these papers is a searchable WORD 97 file prepared by DPMO that provide date of receipt and source, if known, and a summary of the individual documents. The documents and the summaries are subject to 50 USC Sec 435 (McCain Bill) and 5 USC Sec 552 (FOIA). The McCain Bill requires permission of the Primary-Next of-Kin for release of information on an individual POW/MIA or redaction of the name and service number. Section 1031 of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1995 mandates the transfer of these documents to the National Archives, which is to serve as the "centralized repository" for them.

58578 Federal Register / Vol. 62, No. 213 / Tuesday, November 4, 1997 / Rules and Regulations

Effect of Director's Decision

Section 503 of SMCRA provides that a State may not exercise jurisdiction under SMCRA unless the State program is approved by the Secretary. Similarly, 30 CFR 732.17(a) requires that any alteration of an approved State program be submitted to OSM for review as a program amendment. The Federal regulations at 30 CFR 732.17(g) prohibit any unilateral changes to approved State programs. In the oversight of the Indiana program, the Director will recognize only the statutes, regulations and other materials approved by OSM, together with any consistent implementing policies, directives and other materials, and will require the enforcement by Indiana of only such provisions.

VI. Procedural Determinations

Executive Order 12868

This rule is exempted from review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under Executive Order 12868 (Regulatory Planning and Review).

Executive Order 12988

The Department of the Interior has conducted the reviews required by section 3 of Executive Order 12988 (Civil Justice Reform) and has determined that, to the extent allowed by law, this rule meets the applicable standards of subsections (a) and (b) of that section. However, these standards are not applicable to the actual language of State regulatory programs and program amendments since each such program is drafted and promulgated by a specific State, not by OSM. Under sections 503 and 505 of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1253 and 1255) and 30 CFR 730.11, 732.13, and 732.17(h)(10), decisions on proposed State regulatory programs and program amendments submitted by the States must be based solely on a determination of whether the submittal is consistent with SMCRA and its implementing Federal regulations and whether the other requirements of 30 CFR Parts 730, 731, and 732 have been met.

National Environmental Policy Act

No environmental impact statement is required for this rule since section 702(d) of SMCRA (30 U.S.C. 1292(d)) provides that agency decisions on proposed State regulatory program provisions do not constitute major Federal actions within the meaning of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not contain information collection requirements that require approval by OMB under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3507 et seq.).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Department of the Interior has determined that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The State submittal which is the subject of this rule is based upon corresponding Federal regulations for which an economic analysis was prepared and certification made that such regulations would not have a significant economic effect upon a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, this rule will ensure that existing requirements previously promulgated by OSM will be implemented by the State. In making the determination as to whether this rule would have a significant economic impact, the Department relied upon the data and assumptions for the corresponding Federal regulations.

Unfunded Mandates

OSM has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq.) that this rule will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local, state, or tribal governments or private entities.

OSD Privacy Program

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DOD. ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Office of the Secretary of Defense is exempting a system of records identified as DUSP 11, entitled POW/Missing Personnel Office Files. The exemption is needed to protect information properly classified under E.O. 12958, Classified National Security Information.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1997.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. David Bosworth at (703) 695-0970.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The proposed rule was published on August 1, 1997, at 62 FR 41323. No comments were received, therefore, the rule is being adopted as published.

Executive Order 12866. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not constitute "significant regulatory action". Analysis of the rule indicates that it does not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; does not create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency; does not materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; does not raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President's priorities, or the principles set forth in Executive Order 12866.

Regulatory Flexibility Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense does not have significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it is concerned only with the administration of Privacy Act systems of records within the Department of Defense.

Paperwork Reduction Act. It has been determined that this Privacy Act rule for the Department of Defense imposes no information requirements beyond the Department of Defense and that the information collected within the Department of Defense is necessary and consistent with 5 U.S.C. 552a, known as the Privacy Act, and 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35.

List of Subjects in 32 CFR Part 311 Privacy.

Accordingly, 32 CFR part 311 is amended as follows:

PART 311—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for 32 CFR part 311 continues to read as follows:

Authority: Pub.L. 93-579, 88 Stat 1896 (5 U.S.C. 552a).

2. Section 311.7, is amended by adding paragraphs (c)(11)(i) through (c)(11)(iii) to read as follows:

§ 311.7 Procedures for exemptions.

(c) * * *
(11) System identifier and name: DUSP 11, POW/Missing Personnel Office Files.

(i) Exemption: Information classified under E.O. 12958, as implemented by DoD 5200.1-R, may be exempt pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(ii) Authority: 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

(iii) Reasons: From subsection 5 U.S.C. 552a(d) because granting access to information that is properly classified pursuant to E.O. 12958, as implemented by DoD 5200.1-R, may cause damage to the national security.

Foreword

The intent of the "McCain Bill" is to make available to the public information relating to America's unaccounted-for servicemembers, while still respecting the privacy and desires of the primary-next-of-kin.

The statute levies guidelines for reviewing, processing, and forwarding information for public review.

This booklet highlights the history and application of the McCain Bill legislation.

"The McCain Bill" A Brief History

On December 5, 1991, Congress enacted 50 USC § 435 Note as Public Law 102-190, commonly referred to as the McCain Bill. The statute requires the Secretary of Defense to make available to the public—in a "library like setting"—all information relating to the treatment, location, and/or condition (T-L-C) of United States personnel who are unaccounted-for from the Vietnam War. The facility chosen to receive this information is the Library of Congress (LoC). The Secretary of Defense is named as the "official custodian."

Prior to release of T-L-C information, the Department of Defense is required to obtain written consent from the primary-next-of-kin (PNOK) to release publicly such information. In the case of those unaccounted-for from the Vietnam era, letters were mailed to the 2,266 PNOKs; responses were received from 1,893. Of these, approximately 366 declined consent to release T-L-C information. Another 243 PNOKs were located but failed to respond. Each of these is, therefore, considered a PNOK "no" under the provisions of the statute. Following a reasonable search, 130 PNOKs could not be located. Based upon the pro-release intent of the statute, these 130 PNOKs were considered to have given their consent to release T-L-C information. A database was established reflecting PNOK responses and is updated as cases are resolved. Hard copy lists are provided to all offices of the federal government that deal with this issue. The Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office (DPMO) continues to receive PNOK consent for release of information on the unaccounted-for.

Highlights

- McCain Bill also applies to photographs

Key things to remember

- Not an issue of classification
- "Pro release"
- T-L-C: ask the question?
- Consider PNOK Consent/Non-consent

Highlights

- The law does not apply to returnees and negotiated remains prior to December 1991.
- McCain does not apply once remains are repatriated, identified, and returned to the PNOK.

Highlights

- Names and Refnos of PNOK "no's" can be found in the LoC.
 - Lists of names/Refnos
- McCain only applies when information pertains to T-L-C.

The McCain Bill has been amended twice since it was originally signed. The first amendment was in the FY95 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment incorporated the Korean and Cold War unaccounted-for under similar provisions as the Vietnam War unaccounted-for. However, the statute established the National Archives as the "library like setting" for this material and made the Archivist of the United States the "official custodian."

The second amendment was in the FY96 National Defense Authorization Act. This amendment established a 90-day period to locate and gain permission from the PNOK to release information regarding T-L-C of those unaccounted-for from the Korean/Cold War. (Note: The 90-day rule applies only to Korea/Cold War.) DPMO is developing a comprehensive database similar to the one established for the Vietnam War and will distribute the information once it has been completed.

The McCain Bill does not specifically direct declassification. Its "pro-release" intent does, however, imply such action to make the information available to the public. Compliance with the PNOK's non-consent does limit the Government's ability to release publicly all information containing T-L-C data that is declassified.

50 United States Code Section 435 Note

DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION CONCERNING UNACCOUNTED FOR UNITED STATES PERSONNEL OF THE COLD WAR, THE KOREAN CONFLICT, AND THE VIETNAM ERA.

(a) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION - (1) Except as provided in subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense shall, with respect to any information referred to in paragraph (2), place the information in a suitable library-like location within a facility within the National Capital region for public review and photocopying.

(b) EXCEPTIONS - (1) The Secretary of Defense may not make a record or other information available to the public pursuant to subsection (a) if -

(B) the record or other information is in a system of records exempt from the requirements of subsection (d) of section 552a of such title pursuant to subsection (j) or (k) of that section.

(2) The Secretary of Defense may not make a record or other information available to the public pursuant to subsection (a) if the record or other information specifically mentions a person by name unless -

Highlights

Highlights

- The McCain Bill applies to all material released by DoD.
- Includes material generated in the past, that which is produced in the present, and any which may be developed in the future.

Treatment, Location, &/or Condition

Condition:

- Physical or mental condition
- Specific injuries
- Remains
- Non-biological evidence

Highlights

- The McCain Bill is not an issue of classification.
- The McCain Bill also applies to unclassified information.

(A) in the case of a person who is alive (and not incapacitated) and whose whereabouts are known, that person expressly consents in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information; or

(B) in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown, a family member or family members of that person determined by the Secretary of Defense to be appropriate for such purpose expressly consent in writing to the disclosure of the record or other information.

(3) (A) The limitation on disclosure in paragraph (2) does not apply in the case of a person who is dead or incapacitated or whose whereabouts are unknown if the family member or members of that person determined pursuant to subparagraph (B) of that paragraph cannot be located by the Secretary of Defense -

(i) in the case of a person missing from the Vietnam era, after a reasonable effort; and

(ii) in the case of a person missing from the Korean Conflict or Cold War, after a period of 90 days from the date on which any record or other information referred to in paragraph (2) is received by the Department of Defense for disclosure review from the Archivist of the United States, the Library of Congress, or the Joint United States - Russian Commission on POW/MIA's.

(B) Paragraph (2) does not apply to the access of an adult member of the family of a person to any record or information to the extent that the record or other information relates to that person.

(C) The authority of a person to consent to disclosure of a record or other information for the purposes of paragraph (2) may be delegated to another person or an organization only by means of an express legal power of attorney granted by the person authorized by that paragraph to consent to the disclosure.

(c) DEADLINES - (1) In the case of records or other information originated by the Department of Defense, the official custodian shall make such records and other information available to the public pursuant to this section not later than January 2, 1996. Such records or other information shall be made available as soon as a review carried out for the purposes of subsection (b) is completed.

(2) Whenever a department or agency of the Federal Government receives any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) that is required by this section to be made available to the public, the head of that department or agency shall ensure that such record or other information is provided to the Secretary of Defense, and the Secretary shall make such record or other information available in accordance with subsection (a) as soon as possible and, in any event, not later than one year after the date on which the record or information is received by the department or agency of the Federal Government.

(3) If the Secretary of Defense determines that the disclosure of any record or other information referred to in subsection (a) by the date required by paragraph (1) or (2) may compromise the safety of any United States personnel referred to in subsection (a)(2) who remain not accounted for but who may still be alive in captivity, then the Secretary may withhold that record or other information from the disclosure otherwise required by this section. Whenever the Secretary makes a determination under the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall immediately notify the President and the Congress of that determination.

(d) DEFINITIONS - For purposes of this section:

(1) The terms "Korean conflict" and "Vietnam era" have the meanings given those terms in section 101 of title 38, United States Code.

(2) The term "Cold War" means the period from the end of World War II to the beginning of the Korean conflict and the period from the end of the Korean conflict to the beginning of the Vietnam era.

(3) The term "official custodian" is --

(A) in the case of records, reports, and information relating to the Korean conflict or the Cold War, the Archivist of the United States; and

(B) in the case of records, reports, and information relating to the Vietnam era, the Secretary of Defense.

The Decision-making Process

Congress offered no formal guidelines for establishing review procedures necessary to determine whether information containing "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" may be released to the public. The following guidelines have been developed over many years based on experience, analysis of documents, and extensive legal counsel.

These guidelines have been applied to more than a million pages of information that has been released to the Library of Congress, family members, Congress, and interested individuals and groups through declassification efforts under Executive Order 12812, Freedom of Information requests, and the Mandatory Declassification Review process.

Definitions

TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words "treatment," "location," and/or "condition" appear in that paragraph of 50 United States Code Section 435 Note (referred to as the McCain Bill) that defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction, we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g., committee reports; speeches; debates; testimony; etc.). In this case, there is no legislative history that would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korean, and Cold War casualties, DPMO will apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted-for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment," "location," and/or "condition." Nevertheless, in work thus far we have developed examples for each category that may be helpful in one's analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- * Circumstances of capture/internment
 - * Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - * Availability of food and water
 - * Interrogation techniques/torture
 - * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

History of the Law

First Amendment

- FY 95 National Defense Authorization Act
- Include Korea/Cold War

History of the Law

Second Amendment

- FY 96 National Defense Authorization Act
- 90-days to locate Korean/Cold War PNOK

KEY POINTS

50 United States Code
Section 435 Note

"The McCain Bill"

History of the Law

- Senator McCain
- 5 December 1991
- Vietnam
- Two Amendments

- LOCATION
- * Identifiable geographic feature (river, lake, mountain)
 - * Place name (village, city, hamlet - not province)
 - * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
 - * Distance from a known point
 - * 6 digit or greater UTM coordinate
 - * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)
- CONDITION
- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
 - * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
 - * Description of cause/circumstances of death
 - * Remains (to include those referenced during a Joint Field Activity but not positively identified)
 - * Non-biological evidence (such as that which implies the individuals did not exit the aircraft—e.g. ejection seat, parachute parts, other life support equipment)

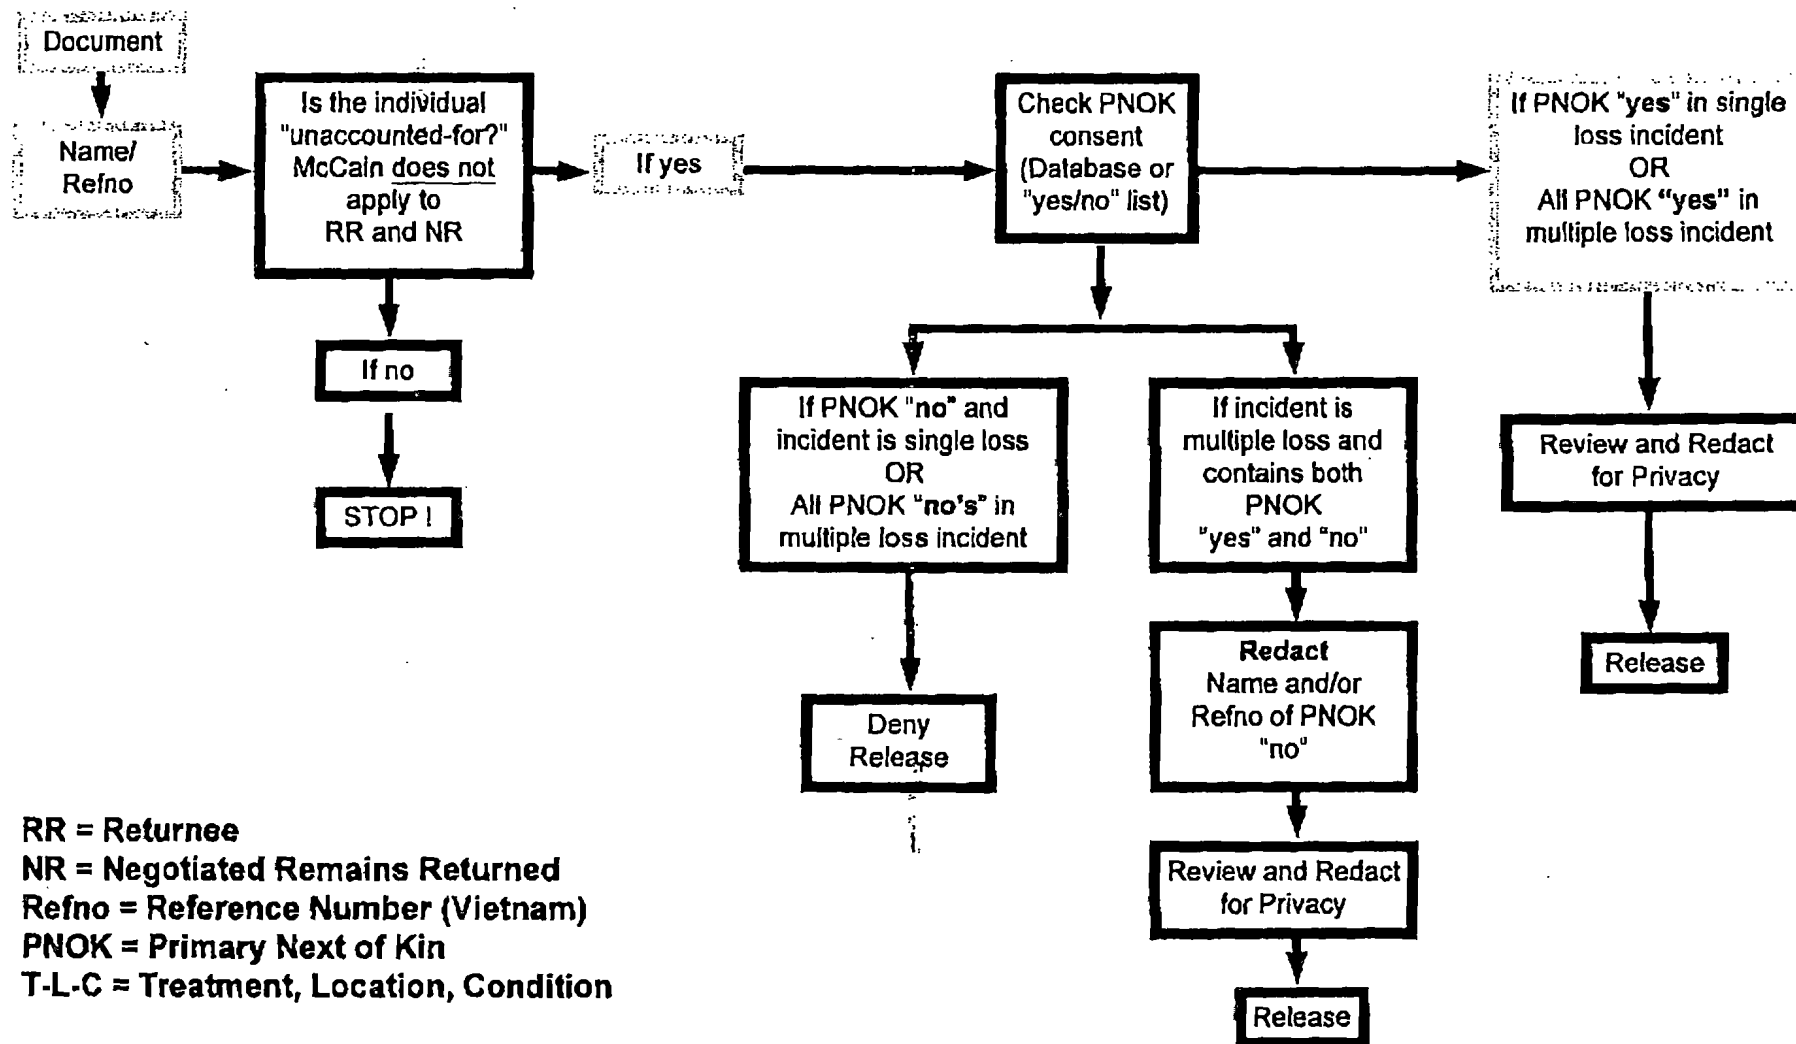

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to the McCain Bill. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it also can be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of DPMO's redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When we encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, such as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

1. INTERIM CONTROL NUMBER: Leave blank. NARA will fill in.

2. AGENCY APPROVAL: The agency records officer having the delegated authority to transfer the records with NARA should sign and date the form here (2A) and provide his/her name, title and mailing address (2B).

3. NARA APPROVAL: When a proposal to transfer records to the National Archives of the United States is approved, the appropriate NARA official completes 3A and 3B.

4A/B. RECORDS SERIES TITLE/DATE SPAN OF SERIES: The information provided should include a records series title, a statement of how the records are arranged, dates of coverage, and sufficient detail to describe the body of records being transferred. If access to the records is gained or facilitated through an index, box list, or other finding aid, include it with the records being transferred. Indicate the appropriate disposition authority number if the index is scheduled separately. If the records are in a Federal records center (FRC) attach each applicable SF 135, Records Transmittal and Receipt. For electronic records, describe any related documentation.

5. Fully identify the unit (5D) that created or organized the records. Usually this is not the agency's records management office. Place the creating unit within its organizational hierarchy (5A-5C). For example, the responsible unit is a branch (5D), within a division (minor subdivision) (5C), within an office (major subdivision) (5B), and within the agency or major component of a department (5A). Block 5A should be the official or legal name of the agency or bureau as published in the U.S. Government Manual. In block 5E include the name and telephone number (including the area code) of a person who should be contacted if NARA has any questions about the records. If the originating agency no longer exists, provide the name of the contact person at the successor agency.

6. DISPOSITION AUTHORITY: This citation must be included. It can be either the item number assigned to the records within a records disposition schedule (SF 115) approved by NARA or the item number assigned to the records within an agency records disposition manual based on a NARA-approved SF 115. If the agency manual number is used, attach a copy of the pertinent pages from the agency manual.

7. IS SECURITY CLASSIFIED INFORMATION PRESENT? If the records contain security classified information, check "Yes" and indicate the highest level of classification present. Indicate any additional applicable national security special access restrictions (e.g., Sensitive Compartmented Information — SCI or North Atlantic Treaty Organization — NATO). Restricted Data and Formerly Restricted Data — RD/FRD — refers to information subject to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954. Check "Segregated" to indicate that security classified records have been segregated from unclassified records or information subject to special access restrictions has been segregated from other classified information. Check "Declassified" to indicate whether any records have been declassified, and provide both the authority for declassification and a description of the declassified records.

8. CURRENT LOCATION OF RECORDS: Check the appropriate box for the current location of the records. If the records currently are in a Federal records center, complete 8B. If the records are located in the transferring agency or other location, complete 8A.

8A. For records located in the transferring agency or other location, provide a complete address.

8B. For records located in a Federal records center, name the center, provide the FRC accession number and container number(s), and the FRC location.

9. PHYSICAL FORM(S): Check all the boxes that apply to the records included in the transfer.

10. VOLUME: Include both the cubic feet of the records and the number and type of containers holding the records. For example:

Cu. ft. 15; Number 15; Type FRC boxes.

Provide separate volume figures for each physical type of records, continuing on a separate sheet as necessary.

11. DATE RECORDS ELIGIBLE FOR TRANSFER TO THE ARCHIVES: Indicate the date the records are eligible for deposit in the National Archives. This date is determined by the disposition instructions for each item in the approved SF 115 or agency manual.

12. ARE THE RECORDS FULLY AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC USE? If the records are exempt from release pursuant to the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(1)-(9) and (c)(1)-(3), this must be fully justified. List all exemptions that apply. If exemption (b)(1) is cited, complete block 7 accordingly. If (b)(3) is cited, include the full citation for the relevant statute. If the records are subject to copyright, identify affected items and the copyright holder.

13. ARE THESE RECORDS SUBJECT TO THE PRIVACY ACT? The National Archives is required to notify the public, through the Federal Register, when it takes custody of records subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a. The originating agency should use this block to indicate whether the records covered by this SF 258 are part of a Privacy Act "system of records" and include a citation to and a copy of the Privacy Act notice published by the agency for the system. NARA will use the transferring agency's notice to inform the public, through the Federal Register, that the records have been transferred to the National Archives and that no further modification of them is possible.

14. ATTACHMENTS: Check the appropriate box(es) and indicate the attachment(s) being submitted with this form.

15. SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS TO AGENCIES/REMARKS REGARDING DISPOSITION: NARA uses this space to provide shipping instructions relating to transfers.

16. RECORDS ACCEPTED INTO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF THE UNITED STATES: The appropriate NARA representative signs block 16 after the records have been received at a NARA facility and NARA has confirmed that the records received are the records described in block 4. Transfers to NARA are not final until NARA has signed block 16. NARA sends the agency a copy of the completed form.

17. NATIONAL ARCHIVES ACCESSION NO.: NARA assigns this unique, permanent control number to each transfer of records.

RETRIEVABILITY:

NCIS closed case paper files are filed by numeric sequential number, alphabetic by topical title, and geographic location; microfilm files are filed by dossier number; and electronic/optically imaged files by case control and Social Security Number. In order to locate the file it is necessary to query the Defense Clearance and Investigations Index using the name of the subject and at least one other personal identifier such as date of birth, place of birth, or Social Security Number. Polygraph electronic systems also use the polygraph approval number. Open case files may also be retrieved from NCIS automated systems by a control number assigned at the time the investigation is initiated.

Copies of the files in the Naval Criminal Investigative Service Field Offices, Naval Criminal Investigative Service Resident Agencies, and Polygraph sites are retrieved by name. Polygraph sites can also retrieve copies of the file by polygraph approval number. Consolidated Evidence Facility and Regional Forensic Lab information is retrieved by name, case control number, submitting agency log number, log numbers, or lab numbers. Wire, Electronic, and Oral Intercept Index records are retrieved by a combination of name, address, Social Security Number, telephone number/radio call sign, or case designation.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

- I. Background
- II. Current Actions
- III. Request for Comments

I. Background

In order to fulfill its responsibilities under the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-275) and the Department of Energy Organization Act (Pub. L. 95-91), the EIA is obliged to carry out a central, comprehensive, and unified energy data and information program. As part of this program, EIA collects, evaluates, assembles, analyzes, and disseminates data and information related to energy resource reserves, production, demand, and technology, and related economic and statistical information relevant to the adequacy of energy resources to meet demands in the near and longer term future for the Nation's economic and social needs.

The EIA, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden (required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)), conducts a presurvey consultation program to provide the general public and other Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing reporting forms. This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden is minimized, reporting forms are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements on respondents can be properly assessed. Also, EIA will later seek approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for the collections under Section 3507(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13, Title 44, U.S.C. Chapter 35).

Confidentiality Notice

The issue of the confidential treatment of data collected on any of the forms listed above is being addressed and will be resolved as a separate matter under other Federal Register notices. Whatever final confidentiality procedures are implemented will be applied to each of the EIA survey forms above as appropriate.

II. Current Actions

The EIA will request (a) a 3-year extension, through December 31, 2001, for all forms listed, and (b) modifications to the specific forms as described below. The proposed changes the EIA is requesting through this action reflect the current state of the electric power industry.

Form EIA-759, "Monthly Power Plant Report," no change.

Form EIA-767, "Steam-Electric Plant Operation and Design Report," no change.

Form EIA-826, "Monthly Electric Utility Sales and Revenue Report with State Distributions," Propose adding

INFORMATION SHEET
TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words treatment, location or condition appear in that paragraph of Public Law 102-190 (referred to as the McCain Bill) which defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g. Committee Reports, speeches, debates, testimony, etc.). In this case there is no legislative history which would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korea and Cold War casualties, the DPMO should apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation, with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply any further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment", "location", and/or "condition". Nevertheless, in our work thus far we have developed some examples of each category which may be helpful in your analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- * Circumstances of capture/internment
 - * Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - * Availability of food and water
 - * Interrogation techniques / torture
 - * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

LOCATION

- * Identifiable geographic feature, e.g. river, lake, mountain
- * Place name (village, city)
- * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
- * Distance from a known point
- * 6 digit UTM coordinate or greater
- * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)

CONDITION

- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
- * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
- * Description of cause/circumstances of death

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to McCain. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it can also be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of our redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When you encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

1. INTERIM CONTROL NUMBER: Leave blank. NARA will fill in.
2. AGENCY APPROVAL: The agency records officer having the delegated authority to transfer the records with NARA should sign and date the form here (2A) and provide his/her name, title and mailing address (2B).
3. NARA APPROVAL: When a proposal to transfer records to the National Archives of the United States is approved, the appropriate NARA official completes 3A and 3B.
- 4A/B. RECORDS SERIES TITLE/DATE SPAN OF SERIES: The information provided should include a records series title, a statement of how the records are arranged, dates of coverage, and sufficient detail to describe the body of records being transferred. If access to the records is gained or facilitated through an index, box list, or other finding aid, include it with the records being transferred. Indicate the appropriate disposition authority number if the index is scheduled separately. If the records are in a Federal records center (FRC) attach each applicable SF 135, Records Transmittal and Receipt. For electronic records, describe any related documentation.
5. Fully identify the unit (5D) that created or organized the records. Usually this is not the agency's records management office. Place the creating unit within its organizational hierarchy (5A-5C). For example, the responsible unit is a branch (5D), within a division (minor subdivision) (5C), within an office (major subdivision) (5B), and within the agency or major component of a department (5A). Block 5A should be the official or legal name of the agency or bureau as published in the U.S. Government Manual. In block 5E include the name and telephone number (including the area code) of a person who should be contacted if NARA has any questions about the records. If the originating agency no longer exists, provide the name of the contact person at the successor agency.
6. DISPOSITION AUTHORITY: This citation must be included. It can be either the item number assigned to the records within a records disposition schedule (SF 115) approved by NARA or the item number assigned to the records within an agency records disposition manual based on a NARA-approved SF 115. If the agency manual number is used, attach a copy of the pertinent pages from the agency manual.
7. IS SECURITY CLASSIFIED INFORMATION PRESENT? If the records contain security classified information, check "Yes" and indicate the highest level of classification present. Indicate any additional applicable national security special access restrictions (e.g., Sensitive Compartmented Information — SCI or North Atlantic Treaty Organization — NATO). Restricted Data and Formerly Restricted Data — RD/FRD — refers to information subject to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954. Check "Segregated" to indicate that security classified records have been segregated from unclassified records or information subject to special access restrictions has been segregated from other classified information. Check "Declassified" to indicate whether any records have been declassified, and provide both the authority for declassification and a description of the declassified records.

8. CURRENT LOCATION OF RECORDS: Check the appropriate box for the current location of the records. If the records currently are in a Federal records center, complete 8B. If the records are located in the transferring agency or other location, complete 8A.

8A. For records located in the transferring agency or other location, provide a complete address.

8B. For records located in a Federal records center, name the center, provide the FRC accession number and container number(s), and the FRC location.

9. PHYSICAL FORM(S): Check all the boxes that apply to the records included in the transfer.

10. VOLUME: Include both the cubic feet of the records and the number and type of containers holding the records. For example:

Cu. ft. 15; Number 15; Type FRC boxes.

Provide separate volume figures for each physical type of records, continuing on a separate sheet as necessary.

11. DATE RECORDS ELIGIBLE FOR TRANSFER TO THE ARCHIVES: Indicate the date the records are eligible for deposit in the National Archives. This date is determined by the disposition instructions for each item in the approved SF 115 or agency manual.

12. ARE THE RECORDS FULLY AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC USE? If the records are exempt from release pursuant to the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(1)-(9) and (c)(1)-(3), this must be fully justified. List all exemptions that apply. If exemption (b)(1) is cited, complete block 7 accordingly. If (b)(3) is cited, include the full citation for the relevant statute. If the records are subject to copyright, identify affected items and the copyright holder.

13. ARE THESE RECORDS SUBJECT TO THE PRIVACY ACT? The National Archives is required to notify the public, through the Federal Register, when it takes custody of records subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a. The originating agency should use this block to indicate whether the records covered by this SF 258 are part of a Privacy Act "system of records" and include a citation to and a copy of the Privacy Act notice published by the agency for the system. NARA will use the transferring agency's notice to inform the public, through the Federal Register, that the records have been transferred to the National Archives and that no further modification of them is possible.

14. ATTACHMENTS: Check the appropriate box(es) and indicate the attachment(s) being submitted with this form.

15. SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS TO AGENCIES/REMARKS REGARDING DISPOSITION: NARA uses this space to provide shipping instructions relating to transfers.

16. RECORDS ACCEPTED INTO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF THE UNITED STATES: The appropriate NARA representative signs block 16 after the records have been received at a NARA facility and NARA has confirmed that the records received are the records described in block 4. Transfers to NARA are not final until NARA has signed block 16. NARA sends the agency a copy of the completed form.

17. NATIONAL ARCHIVES ACCESSION NO.: NARA assigns this unique, permanent control number to each transfer of records.

SF 258, Continuation Sheet

Item 4a (Continued) are intelligence and counterintelligence debriefings; loss/prisoner reports; newspaper clippings; reports on and investigations into the conduct of prisoners while in POW status; copies of letters from POWs to family members; various reports and correspondence to and from Department of the Navy officials, non-governmental organizations/persons, and family members; and, in one file, several original examples of Democratic Republic of Vietnam (i.e., Communist North Vietnam) propaganda material. Many of the reports address locations, treatment and conditions under which the POWs were held. Several files contain information pertaining to individuals still identified as MIA. All files pertain to Navy and Marine Corps persons, except two that pertain to members of the United States Air Force. Several files address allegations of POW misconduct, to include accounts by members from other services. One file pertains to a POW who allegedly collaborated with the North Vietnamese Army and contains intelligence and investigative information collected by the Naval Investigative Service and its predecessor and successor organizations for use in his court martial. The records are arranged alphabetically by the individual's last name. The list also identifies the individual's service affiliation.

Item 11. SECNAVINST 5212.5C (and 5D), Navy and Marine Corps Records Disposition Manual, calls for these files to be transferred to NARA when 30 years old. Most are within four years of meeting this criterion, but several are not with one only becoming eligible in the year 2020. In recognition of the special interest in these records as evidenced by PL 102-190, as amended, they are offered for transfer as a collection prior to the elapse of the 30 years for all records. This represents, to the best of our knowledge, all records in the custody of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service under this file authority involving Vietnam Conflict POW/MIAs. The Defense POW/MIA Office (DPMO) is aware of and has reviewed most of these records. The Department of Defense Joint Services Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE) Agency (JSSA) received a copy of some of these records on 20 November 1997. A copy of the remainder will be provided in August or September 1998. The records will be available for transfer to NARA by mid September 1998.

Item 12. Exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(7) of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, as specified in item 13, apply. A declassification review under the provisions of EO 12958 has been accomplished. The review determined that some of these records remain classified. Tabs identifying documents belonging to other classifying authorities mark these pages. Interrogation debriefing reports remain classified pending resolution of JSSA's and DPMO's proposed legislation as specified in JSSA's letter at item 14. Other exemptions that apply are cited in PL 102-190, as amended (FY 95 National Defense Authorization Act), for information concerning persons still unaccounted for, as specified in item 14. This includes individuals mentioned in, though not the subject of, the case file. Refer issues of declassification and disclosure of debriefing reports, POW letters and certain other materials to JSSA, Fort Belvoir, VA 22060-5212.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS:

STORAGE:

Maintained on paper records in file folders, audio and audiovisual tapes, microimaging, electronic systems, magnetic tape, optical digital data disks, CD ROM, and computer output products. Some laboratory documents are stored in loose-leaf notebooks or bound record books.

RETRIEVABILITY:

NCIS closed case paper files are filed by numeric sequential number, alphabetic by topical title, and geographic location; microfilm files are filed by dossier number; and electronic/optically imaged files by case control and Social Security Number. In order to locate the file it is necessary to query the Defense Clearance and Investigations Index using the name of the subject and at least one other personal identifier such as date of birth, place of birth, or Social Security Number. Polygraph electronic systems also use the polygraph approval number. Open case files may also be retrieved from NCIS automated systems by a control number assigned at the time the investigation is initiated.

Copies of the files in the Naval Criminal Investigative Service Field Offices, Naval Criminal Investigative Service Resident Agencies, and Polygraph sites are retrieved by name. Polygraph sites can also retrieve copies of the file by polygraph approval number. Consolidated Evidence Facility and Regional Forensic Lab information is retrieved by name, case control number, submitting agency log number, log numbers, or lab numbers. Wire, Electronic, and Oral Intercept Index records are retrieved by a combination of name, address, Social Security Number, telephone number/radio call sign, or case designation.

SAFEGUARDS:

Buildings employ alarms, security guards, and or rooms with security controlled areas accessible only to authorized persons. Classified and highly sensitive paper records are maintained in General Service Administrative approved security containers. Paper and microform records in NCIS records office are stored in open shelves and filing cabinets in security controlled areas accessible only to authorized persons. Electronically and optically stored records are maintained in 'fail-safe' system software with password protected access. Records are accessible only to authorized persons with a need-to-know who are properly screened, cleared and trained. Noncurrent and master copy of microfilmed files are retired to the Washington National Records Center where retrieval is restricted to NCIS authorized personnel.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Counterintelligence (CI) Records:

CI records are retained in the active file until the case is closed; then destroyed 25 years after the date of last action. Major CI investigations are retired to the NCIS records office upon case closure; then transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) when 25 years old.

Source records are retained in the active file until the operation is complete; then destroyed 75 years after the date of the last action.

Reciprocal CI investigative files regarding individuals or organizations under investigative jurisdiction of the requesting agency are disposed of as prescribed above for CI investigative records; except when the request is for CI personnel security matters; then the file is destroyed after one year.

CI defensive briefings are retained until case closure, retired to the NCIS records office; then destroyed after 15 years. Foreign national marriage and visa applicant investigations are retired to the NCIS records office upon case closure; then destroyed after one year except when the investigation surfaces significant derogatory material. In such cases the CSP Package is incorporated into the investigative file and disposed of in accordance with the disposition guidance for the dossier (3) audio tape recordings of routine CSP examinations with no significant responses are erased when no longer needed or after 90 days. Recordings referred for further investigation are incorporated into the investigative case file and disposed of in accordance with the disposition guidance for the dossier.

Personnel investigations:

Completed NCIS investigative files on Personnel Security Investigations (PSI's) are destroyed after 15 years unless significant incidents or adverse information is developed, in which case they are destroyed after 25 years. Disposition of the case files is governed by the NARA approved retention period applied to the case dossier. Hardcopy records used to create the index are destroyed upon verification that the indexing information has been fully and accurately entered into the automated index.

National Crime Information Center (NCIC) records that support Department of the Navy entries into the FBI's National Crime Information Center are destroyed after the related entry is deleted from the National Crime Information Center computer. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

- I. Background
- II. Current Actions
- III. Request for Comments

I. Background

In order to fulfill its responsibilities under the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-275) and the Department of Energy Organization Act (Pub. L. 95-91), the EIA is obliged to carry out a central, comprehensive, and unified energy data and information program. As part of this program, EIA collects, evaluates, assembles, analyzes, and disseminates data and information related to energy resource reserves, production, demand, and technology, and related economic and statistical information relevant to the adequacy of energy resources to meet demands in the near and longer term future for the Nation's economic and social needs.

The EIA, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden (required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)), conducts a presurvey consultation program to provide the general public and other Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing reporting forms. This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden is minimized, reporting forms are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements on respondents can be properly assessed. Also, EIA will later seek approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for the collections under Section 3507(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13, Title 44, U.S.C. Chapter 35).

Confidentiality Notice

The issue of the confidential treatment of data collected on any of the forms listed above is being addressed and will be resolved as a separate matter under other Federal Register notices. Whatever final confidentiality procedures are implemented will be applied to each of the EIA survey forms above as appropriate.

II. Current Actions

The EIA will request (a) a 3-year extension, through December 31, 2001, for all forms listed, and (b) modifications to the specific forms as described below. The proposed changes the EIA is requesting through this action reflect the current state of the electric power industry.

Additional changes may be required, prior to the new expiration date, in order to be up-to-date with the rapidly changing industry.

Form EIA-411, "Coordinated Bulk Power Supply Program," Propose changing planning projections period (Items 1, 2, and 4) from 10 years to 5 years. The form and instructions will be modified to show this change.

Form EIA-412, "Annual Report of Public Electric Utilities," Propose changing the reporting threshold from 120,000 MWh to 150,000 MWh. The instructions will be modified to show this change.

Form EIA-417R, "Annual Summary of Emergency Occurrences," no change.

Form EIA-759, "Monthly Power Plant Report," no change.

Form EIA-767, "Steam-Electric Plant Operation and Design Report," no change.

Form EIA-826, "Monthly Electric Utility Sales and Revenue Report with State Distributions," Propose adding

INFORMATION SHEET
TREATMENT, LOCATION and/or CONDITION

The words treatment, location or condition appear in that paragraph of Public Law 102-190 (referred to as the McCain Bill) which defines the class of information to which the public disclosure requirement is applicable. The words themselves are not further defined in the statute.

In accordance with the normal rules of statutory construction we look to the plain meaning of the words in the context in which they appear. We also may consider the legislative intent which is intrinsically obvious in the legislation itself or is further evidenced in the legislative history of the provision (e.g. Committee Reports, speeches, debates, testimony, etc.). In this case there is no legislative history which would suggest that anything other than the plain meaning of the words used was intended by the Congress.

Accordingly, as the agency charged with implementing the statute as it applies to Vietnam, Korea and Cold War casualties, the DPMO should apply the plain meaning standard. The purpose of the statute is to effect the public disclosure of information relevant to the resolution of the cases of the unaccounted for persons. This is a pro-release piece of legislation, with some restrictions. There should be no effort to apply any further restrictive or artificially limiting meaning to the plain words.

It is not possible to provide an effective, all-encompassing definition of "treatment", "location", and/or "condition". Nevertheless, in our work thus far we have developed some examples of each category which may be helpful in your analysis of specific materials. These examples are not exhaustive or exclusive, merely illustrative:

- TREATMENT
- * Circumstances of capture/internment
 - * Medical treatment or lack thereof
 - * Availability of food and water
 - * Interrogation techniques / torture
 - * Physical or mental abuse, threats, humiliation

LOCATION

- * Identifiable geographic feature, e.g. river, lake, mountain
- * Place name (village, city)
- * Prison camp site (Hanoi Hilton/Son Tay/Zoo)
- * Distance from a known point
- * 6 digit UTM coordinate or greater
- * GEOCOORDS (degrees/minutes/seconds)

CONDITION

- * Physical or mental condition (weak, malnourished, sick, feverish, delirious, coma)
- * Specific injuries (skull fracture, broken arm, gunshot or fragment wound, concussion, etc.)
- * Description of cause/circumstances of death

As the examples illustrate, information which is logically relevant to a determination of fate should be included among that which is subject to the disclosure requirements of the McCain provision as amended.

Questions are raised regarding the application of the word "dead" as it relates to McCain. In the usual context of our work, "dead" is a status, but it can also be descriptive of a condition. Information or evidence that a person is dead is clearly relevant to a determination of fate and that information is subject to the McCain provision when it arises in the descriptive context. For the purposes of our redaction work, we must apply a sensible rule. When you encounter the word dead, and it is clearly used in the context of a previously known status, as in a compilation listing casualties, then the reference may stand without application of the PNOK release rule. However, where it is used descriptively, as in a witness statement, then the normal rules relative to the PNOK release are applicable.

Ft. Belvoir, VA 22060-5212

SUBJECT: POW Debriefing Records

1. The debriefing of POWs was accomplished for the purpose of obtaining intelligence information, a great deal of which would play an important role in improving the Joint Services Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE) training program and operations throughout DOD. These records contain classified information and personal sensitive information and must be protected from disclosure and automatic declassification rules of the EO 12958.
2. DPMO, with coordination from JSSA, has drafted proposed legislation to OSD/GC requesting that Korea and Vietnam-era debriefings should only be released following an appropriate security and privacy review by either DPMO or JSSA. This office accepts full responsibility to review these documents before their release to the public.
3. If you have any questions, please contact me at 703-806-5074. Thank you for your support in restricting access to these sensitive records.
