Scope & Content: Records relate to and contain information concerning U.S. personnel who have been declared Prisoner of War (POW) or Missing in Action (MIA), civilian personnel who have been held hostage, or personnel who have been recovered from hostile control and then debriefed for intelligence/counterintelligence information.

Dossiers are predominately for American Prisoners of War in Korea. Series also includes some dossiers for Foreign (Non-American) personnel, such as Turkish, Philippine, Greek, Dutch, French, Colombian, British, and Belgian Prisoners of War and War Crimes in Korea and Europe. Selected dossiers are also for American personnel during World War II and the Cold War.

Agency History: The Investigative Records Repository (IRR) at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, is the controlling agency for all military intelligence records compiled by the U.S. Army in support of intelligence and counterintelligence activities. The IRR provides daily support to Army intelligence units throughout the world, and other intelligence agencies as needed. The IRR falls under the direct command of the 310th Military Intelligence Battalion of the 902d Military Intelligence Group, which, in turn, reports to the U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command (INSCOM) at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. INSCOM, formed in 1977 by the merger of the U.S. Army Intelligence Agency and the U.S. Army Security Agency, is the Army's chief intelligence organization.

Finding Aid Note: A searchable database for the records was created by the Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office (DPMO.) An electronic copy of the database is held by NWCTM.
